Cycle 1

So this is an interesting choice the village has made. Or that two or three members of the village want to make. I had to think long and hard about whether there was anything I could do about them trying to lynch everyone. Or if there was anything I should do. I honestly don't think they could pull it off if they tried.

If the elims have a tough it definitely wouldn't work.

Ooh, solid point. I was a lot more worried that the game was already broken than I needed to be. Wouldn't have happened anyway. All it would need is one Convincing player to use their ability to save themselves and only one would die.

Cycle 2

Ow. I am dead.

... silence.

...

...

Ouch.

Welp. At least when I die early nobody can steal my color.

If only we had gone for the mega lynch. That would have been really fun to try.

Well, this gives me a better chance of breaking my streak. I've currently won as many games as I've survived in, with only 1 outlier each of winning a game while dead/losing while alive.

Hopefully that streak breaks. :P I also don't get why people killed me opposed to others.

Because I took my vote off of Somebody?

Partially I guess, and because people ended up not wanting multiple deaths.

Cycle 3

I guess I could have played in this game.

I hope people look into Illwei, now. Though... I was pretty vocal about my suspicion of him, so the elims could have killed me to draw more suspicion onto Illwei.

Cycle 4

:(((( hi guys

So...why was I the Elim Kill? I'll need to see how Alv flips.

I don't trust Gears and Matrim. Gears PMd me and asked me to lay off of Matrim for one cycle, then poof I'm dead.

Alvron was village insightful. Wonder what he found out and whether he shared anything. I shared nothing. Roles don't mean alignment. However, if someone claimed something and I knew different, then I would've revealed.

Yeah I don't...hm. If Alv flipped Elim I was going to be more suspicious of Gears, because his vote because of Gears' Elim claim felt like it could be distancing, but now idk. I'm still not feeling good about Gears or Matrim because of Gears' PM, and Matrim's feel. Ghander reached out to me via PMs which didn't make me feel great about him, but...I mean that's completely NAI :P. And I still don't feel right about Quinn. Don't know...why I was killed. though...

What are your guesses for the elim team, Devotary? It sounds like you (Illwei) think it's Ghander, Mat, and maybe quinn? I have not been paying nearly enough attention to have guesses. There was a reason I didn't sign up as a player. :P. I could probably start caring more now that I'm dead in the LG.that makes sense

If it's Gears it's Mat, and Quinn just announced that it is Gears. So I'm thinking Gears, Mat, ...Ghander. Possibly...one moment.... Yeah, Gears, Mat, maybe Ghander, unless they have some strange plan to take out 6 people in one cycle. Yeah. Gears, Mat, Ghander/another inactive possibly, but the fact that....

There's probably four elims even though Elk implied there's an elim tough. Maybe Elkanah just took the top four players off the list.

I mean, Elk just listed three people out of my four suspicions...so I ran with three...wait. No. Yea. Gears, Matrim, Quinn. That's my guess. My guess for Ghander is he PMd me right at the same time/right after gears did, which makes me think that Maybe gears suggested something and then they PMd.

Would be funny if Gears Matrim and Quinn were all evil seeing as how they're all accusing each other. High octane bussing.XD

I am 100%...90%, 85% maybe- sticking with that theory. Feels like something that Gears and Mat would agree to. If pyro was in this game then I would think he was on the Elim team. Especially because gears told me he had a plan for Matrim, and that...idk.

Definitely one of them will die, but it is possible the other two will get away with it, with one player staying out of the conflict.

I mean, kill Gears and it clears Quinn and semi-Mat, Kill mat it clears Gears and implicates Quinn, kill Quinn and...well, there's no reason to kill quinn right now.

This could be a good cycle for the elim tough to be annoying. The scheme does run the risk of a lethal ghostblood deciding to just kill someone.

Hm. Second guessing my theory, but still don't know why the elims killed me. ?

Feels kind of off that Reading scanned both Quinn and Gears as Connected.

Wait, what? Reading? How would- what type of coinycdink is that? I amend my elim reads to Gears, Quinn, no. nevermind. Wait, yeah. Gears, Quinn, Reading...hm....

I'm no good at this "village" thing... wait. Is it at 8-4? Yeah. okay hm. Probably is unless there's five elims for some reason. 5 isn't unreasonable for 18 players depending on role distribution.

Mat dies, 6-4, then - wait yeah so this is pretty close to lylo. Too early for false claims normally, but if they do have a tough then they can get 6-4, have the false claimer survive a cycle down to 5-4 then hammer if there's inactive villagers without inactive elims. Of course village kill roles could stop that plan, as could village vote manips. For all I know the elims have someone with one of those roles though. Hm. yeah. okay I see that..If they could get Mat killed then all they- hm. But then they'd go down to 5-3, and then, no yeah, then quinn and Reading would be basically conf and all they need is one mistake from town. Hm.

Just realized somebody didn't join the spec doc

Okay so what if

What if the Elim team is Gears, Quinn, and Venty. Hm Gears and Vent, I wouldn't be surprised.

This would be a weird strategy if they were all evil.

Also...connie... I-. Hm. Connie says that Gears claimed he saw something in another game?

But he didn't?

Ah okay I see.

For those wondering. Ganderflaffle is a Tough, Condensation is Convincing and Matrim is Recommended.

Hm, so I mean, Gander could be an Elim Tough, if we assume that there is an Elim Tough based on Elk's response.

Illwei died! Now this doc won't be dead! :P

o/

Yeah, I talk a lot :P.

What is this thing by gears? He's saying that Quinn claimed to him that Reading wasn't an Elim?

I-

I'm beyond confused. But coolio

I haven't been reading the thread so... ya. I have no idea.

Alignment scanners only work once, so it shouldn't have been possible, but I think Gears is just trying to cause confusion at this point.

I'm a bit suspicious of King, he voted for quinn, and then backed up his reasoning with evidence that completely contradicted him.

I think the idea is that killing Quinn proves Gears's alignment, although it doesn't.

Yeah, but he said

"Are you suggesting we vote Quinn, because we can confirm more innocents/diagramists by discovering they're role? Because that actually makes a lot of sense."

And that conflicts with the flowchart he posted

Yeah, there's no information advantage to killing Quinn.

Hm, I think that Quinn is village, and Gears is trying to set her up for another Day. I think he's hoping Matrim, Him, then Quinn.

Gears was prepared to post something before the new cycle went up, so there was some sort of plan involved.

Hmm, well, there's the game. All that's left is to wait an hour. Well played all.

So village Gears, elim Quinn/Matrim/Reading/X/Y?

Wait what I am so confused now about what happened. That's the game? How is the game over?

Quinn can't be an Elim, there are so many people voting them. I stand by gears elim, but his teammates have to be something like King/Lotus. I am so confused. Game's over?

Yep The four voting for Gears are all elims and the village kill role isn't going to use it. Further, Quinn has protection, so to get to another day, she'd have to pick up two more votes because the elims aren't letting go of the Gears lynch.

Wait gears isn't an Elim??? I'm beyond confused. Okay coolio.
