

Subject: THE ONLY STEP TO SKYROCKET YOUR SALES!

Hello Levi,

I wanted to follow up on my previous mail regarding a potential partnership opportunity between our organizations. While I understand that your schedule may have been busy, I wanted to ensure that my mail reached you and didn't get lost in the shuffle.

As a Digital Marketing Strategist, I remain genuinely excited about the possibility to collaborate with your business to enhance your digital marketing effort. I strongly believe that our partnership can unlock new opportunities for growth and success.

Incase you missed it, my previous mail outlined how my ideas could impress the customers who visited your website and increase the ratio of the number of people who visit your website to the number of people who actually buy it. I have many ideas regarding newsletter, thumbnails and convincing potential customers and I have my expertise in these fields.

If you are interested into increasing the number of sales of your course or if you are interested to learning more, give me a mail back and I will talk to you about the details about the hack to significantly increase your sales.

Best wishes,

Fayez
