

SUNY Binghamton University and Tompkins Cortland Community College are partnering to bring you a virtual opportunity, "Empowering the Transition: Helping Students with Disabilities Prepare for College", to learn about supporting high school students with disabilities through the college transition process.

This free virtual event is specifically for juniors and seniors with disabilities and their caregivers and/or advocates who are navigating the college application process and wondering about disability services at the postsecondary level. We encourage students, parents, advocates, school counselors, CSE chairs, transition counselors and other allies to attend. Whether your student is looking to attend a private four-year institution or public two year, this session will help you navigate the process so the student can arrive on campus knowing how to get the help and services they need.

When: Please join us on October 16th at 6PM.

Who should attend: Students, parents, advocates, school counselors, CSE Chairs, transition counselors, etc.

Why Attend? The laws and services for students with disabilities in college are significantly different from high school. This session will provide a crucial overview of:

- The fundamental differences between high school (IDEA) and college (ADA/Section 504) disability laws.
- The role of the student in self-advocacy.
- What to expect from college disability services offices.
- Documentation requirements for college accommodations.
