Preposition of time

This prepositions of time game is a fun activity for reviewing the prepositions of time at, on, in, with English language learners. There are 10 questions and students must choose the correct preposition of time at on or in.

To play this game, simply show the video in class. There are ten quiz questions. Each question shows students a sentence with the preposition of time missing. Students must choose the correct preposition of time to complete the sentence. You can ask students to write down their answer, to raise their hand to answer, or simply shout out the correct preposition of time.
