

Faisal Alhamer (The Man Behind The Name)

Does the name Faisal Alhamer ring any bells? Faisal Alhamer is a big name in the venture capital business. He has vast experience as a venture capitalist after spending over two decades investing in several startups all over the United Arab Emirates. He has invested in over 150 startups, and he still plans to invest in more.

Over the past two decades, he has invested in several companies including real estate, hospitality, finance, automotive, human resources, and technology. He also has vast experience as a Venture Capitalist, Private Equity, Mergers and Acquisitions, Growth, and Corporate Strategy. You can call him a hands-on entrepreneur as he is good at what he does.

Faisal Alhamer was a director in the Dubai Airports for three years. He directed the activities of the airport from 2007 to 2010. Not only that, He was the Chief Executive Officer at ABA Group for five years. His expertise runs deep and puts him in the best position to make accurate predictions about several startups and companies.

Faisal now has a new adventure that will keep him occupied for another extended period. This adventure is the MECC Venture which he is CEO of. He plans to invest $1 Billion into different companies all over the United Arab Emirates within the next 12 months. It will be a period of making a massive impact on many people's lives: founders and users.

Faisal Alhamer is a huge believer in the UAE ecosystem. An evident proof of this is his previous history encompassing a long list of companies he has invested in. He has spent nearly all his life in UAE, so he knows the nitty-gritty of running a company here. His experience had taught him to identify a great project at a glance, and he has left a billion dollars on the table to invest with.

Faisal is a perfect example of the ideal investor. Any budding company will be lucky to have him on board. The reason for this is not out of the blues. He has the qualities that make up for a good investor. He comes up with a fail-proof plan, which significantly increases the odds of success. His plan of action is accompanied by a deadline to help participating members stay focused.

Faisal's eyes are keen on the current trends of the market. Therefore, he follows the present-day market scenario to choose the company he invests in, ensuring he considers the future. A good investor is skilled in merging the current and future market expectations, thus delivering a top-notch project or recognizing one that will achieve such expectations. That is the kind of investor Faisal Alhamer is.

His portfolio is pretty massive. He has patiently built his presence in the UAE ecosystem. He is in such a perfect position to determine the likely outcomes of many companies all over the UAE. He is well-schooled, and being a venture capitalist for more than two decades, he has what it takes to make good use of the $1 Billion on the table. We are looking out for what the next 12 months will be like, and there is much certainty of success for Faisal Alhamer.