

Intro

Hello everyone and Welcome to episode 24 of FOWL Play! We've got a packed show so we're going to get right into things. Week 1 is in the rearview mirror and so are your opening week fantasy matchups.

To start, let's check in with my esteemed co-hosts. Blevins, it's been a little while, how was your week 1?

Asmith, lose any expert league matchups this week by chance?!

Mailbag

Beardy McBeardyface- For unlimited drafts, what is the "correct" selection criteria. Should I choose the best players playing 2 games that week regardless of their matchup (say NYXL vs Florida) or is it better to chose players in more evenly balanced matchup because those games will generally go longer (map 5, map 3 for koth, more overtime etc) and will create more opportunity for players to earn more pts?

Lady Emma Sky- I know realistically, we can't guess the final score with 100% certainty; but would it not just always be best to gamble and always play whatever players you think will play 5 map games?

Thornrayne- Is it wise to stay away from main tanks in unlimited and just stick to the D.va

TempoJama- Izayaki had the 2nd highest best score, Agilities had the 6th highest (2nd amongst DPS), and Space was the top-scoring tank. How sustainable is their production?
