

our plan!

Title: survivor

tips for survival how to survival in the wild review on touching the void

survivors story

advertisement - persuasive

picture

price

recount on titanic

games page

12/6/12

dear diary today we want to find some survival pictures and find out tips for survival in the wild.

12/6/12

We have found some pictures and we have sorted out who is making witch page in we we fhisch tips and a story a shoner about call lezly hachkens saft tips s is for stop and tack a deap beath

and calm your saft

t is think about your next move is and what your good at it

o look around you environment to see what you can do

p is for plan. plan how you will get shetter
and food and water

FOOD

IF YOU FIND FOOD DON'T EAT TOO

MUCHbecasue you might not find anymore and you might die of starvation if you eat all the food at once

Calm If you panic the more you will be dared and cold. too much shock can kill you

Shelter

If there is a cave go and into it and sleep and call for help and try to find out where you are.

If there is not a cave you will have to make a shelter

Water

When it is in the middle of the day go and look for a lake/slash river. First jump in the water to wash any blood off. Drink some water to stop dehydration

Leslie Hutchins

Leslie Hutchins when family members cast Leslie Hutchins ashes on the sea at Lyttelton they felt they were sending him home. The highly decorated naval officer died in Christchurch in 2004. he was 86. He had real passion for the sea. The North Atlantic was his home. He saw God on the sea his son said. English born he learned to sail as a youngster and joined the volunteer Naval Reserve. When world war 2 broke out Hutchins helped evacuate British soldier from Dunkirk then sailed on convoy escort duties in the North Atlantic. Commissioned as an officer in the North Atlantic. Commissioned as an officer in the Royal Navy he served on motor launches landing secret agents and raiding parties in France. His courage on one mission in which he took over the vessel when the captain was severely wounded by enemy aircraft attack. He was recognized with the award of the Distinguished service cross. He was Mentioned in Dispatchers for his actions as skipper of a minesweeper escort at the D Day invasion.

His son often asked his father about the war but could remember him talking about it only once and then saying little.

He had a total abhorrence of war. He hated war and hated the stench of war his son said. This stor is a article from the press newspaper.

Interview with Bear Grylls

Hello Bear Grylls how are you today

Hello Max I am good thank you and you

I am feeling alright

That's good

Right so Bear Grylls what is your real name?

Edward Michael Grylls

What was one of your favourite moments being filmed?

Probably in the Amazon because the tribe's there were very helpful and taught me many things

What was one of your scariest moments on camera?

when I went over a crocodile infested swamp on broken log and I almost fell in.

What is your favourite food?

Sunday roast because when I grew up every sunday we would have a big roast.

What is your favourite animal?

My dog Mina I love her to bit.

Well that comes to the of the interview thank you Bear Grylls for coming.

thank you Max