November 7, 2025

Dear Secretary Rollins, Director Vought, Speaker Johnson, House Minority Leader Jeffries, & Senate Majority Leader Thune, & Senate Democratic Leader Schumer,

On behalf of the National Parent Teacher Association (National PTA), the 995 PTAs listed below, and our members across the country, we write with extreme concern regarding the withholding of contingency funds for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance (SNAP) Program and urge you to swiftly authorize and release these funds and utilize any other existing flexibilities without impacting other critical nutrition programs. We must ensure the continued disbursement of SNAP benefits during the federal government shutdown.

Across the country, many schools, childcare programs, food banks, afterschool programs and parent groups are scrambling to prepare for the possibility of millions of families suddenly losing access Nov. 1 to the support they rely on for feeding their children. More than 40 million people receive SNAP benefits with children accounting for nearly 40% of all SNAP participants. If federal funding doesn't resume by Nov. 1, many families will be at risk of facing even more hardship.

We've heard pleas from parents who are preparing to go without meals themselves so they can feed their children, from school administrators, teachers and parent groups rushing to do what they can to assemble ad hoc food banks so the children and families in their communities can be fed. Principals and superintendents are already witnessing behavior changes in students within the classroom, students whose parents are facing compounding pressures of rising grocery costs and unaffordability of household items, job insecurity and unemployment, furloughs and job loss, and now the possibility of being stripped of benefits that help put food on their tables to feed their children.

Our organizations work closely with children, families, and schools. We know that children being fed is imperative to their health, development, and academic achievement. Food insecurity is linked to lower reading and math scores, falling behind peers academically and socially, and may lead to increased risk of behavioral issues, such as anxiety, hyperactivity, and aggression. Our organizations support efforts to ensure that all children and youth in our nation can start school every day ready to learn and receive the meals and health care needed to arrive at school with healthy minds and bodies.

Luckily, Congress created a contingency reserve fund for SNAP, an amount of almost $6 billion appropriated by Congress that can be used to continue program operations during emergencies. Across diverse states from Virginia to Rhode Island, Republican and Democratic governors have already declared a state of emergency in response to the impending Nov. 1 discontinuation of federal SNAP benefits. Moreover, both Republican and Democratic Administrations, including the first term of this Administration, have historically turned to existing sources of funding, including reserve funding and flexibilities within funding mechanisms, to ensure the continued disbursement of SNAP benefits to families and children in need during federal government shutdowns.

As you continue to negotiate a federal appropriations package for FY2026, food for our nation's children and their ability to learn should not be caught in the cross hairs of the shutdown. This is the time to demonstrate your leadership and take action to protect the health, well-being, and education of millions of children and families across the country. We urge you to release immediately the available reserve funds and utilize any other existing flexibilities, without impacting other critical nutrition programs, to ensure the continuation of SNAP funding during the federal government shutdown.

Sincerely,

National PTA
