

FAQs

Hiya! These are a few rules about commissioning art from me! My Will Do, Won't Do Lists are further down at the end. Please look over the FAQs before sending payment.

- Unless you have specifically asked me not to, I retain the right to use the artwork drawn by me for you in advertising for my commissions, YCH, etc.
- Please do not remove my signature from the piece, or else you will end up on my blacklist.
- For those who order no color (clean sketch or lineart), you are allowed to color it yourself or commission someone to color it, but no addition to or subtracting from the lines please. My signature will remain on said piece as well.
- No commercial use, please. I draw these for your personal use.
- If you trade or sell the character associated with the artwork, please inform me, that way if I see the artwork posted by the new owner, I do not think that the artwork has been stolen or reposted with no credit.
- Speaking of credit, if you choose to repost the artwork, please credit me.
