Mario
I finished the website let me know if i need to add anything to the site I just put up a few things just to start it off and I can add more if yall have any ideas... the site is http://net-addiction.webs.com/

August 7:
Hey Katie, if you haven't figured out the autoresponse yet, under options in Yahoo mail there's something called "vacation response" where you can set it up.

Ramy

August 5:
Topic: Internet Addiciton
Email account: internetaddictionawareness@yahoo.com
If you want to get on it to check it out the password is english103

Mario- do you think you can make the website for it? It can have a couple facts about internet addiciton and then when we make our video we will put that on it.

Ramy- Twitter page with facts about internet addiction and email on it

I set up the email account and will figure out how to do the automatic response for it. When someone sends an email to the account the response will have a link to the website and also an attached document talking about internet addiction
I'll also make the document for the email.

We should have facts on internet addiction; signs, treatments, dangers each of us can split those up then put whatever you find and are using onto this document page.

If you have any ideas about the video please post them! We can meet on Tuesday to do the video, it shouldn't take too long.

Thanks,
Katie

August 4
I sent an email to Professor Butts and I'm just going to copy his reply here explaining what we have to do:

Yep, I'm happy to.  Let's say you chose to do your assignment about Autism.

You have to include the five components: an email account, a website, a social media site, a document, and a video.

You have to get your audience from one component to the next.  So, you start a Facebook Page called Mothers Against Autism.  This page includes an e-mail account like mothersagainstautism@gmail.com.  When your audience e-mails that address to find out more, you'd set it up to automatically respond something like this:

Thanks for contacting mothers against autism.  Please find out more at our website: mothersagainstautism.moonfruit.com.

Then, you create a free website with Moonfruit.  Then, finally one of your team members creates a short video, maybe using one of your moms.  And she's in the video saying:

"Autism sucks.  Moms around the world are joining together against autism. Join us."

Then you guys embed that video in your site using Youtube's code or something.

So I was thinking some ideas we might be able to use are; violence in schools, obesity, social networking, or teen pregnancy.
If you want to look at more here is a good site for some ideas http://www.sac.edu/students/library/nealley/websites/controversial.htm

Ramy, I like your suggestions about depression and Internet addiction. We could do something on one of those. I'm up for anything as long as we have some good ideas!

Oh and as far as meeting I know this is last minute but I could probably meet on campus tonight, tomorrow morning, or tomorrow night if yall wanted to but this weekend I'm going out of town so I won't be available to meet but I'll still have Internet access to work on our project.

And I'm not sure how often yall check this but here is my number in case yall want to meet tonight or tomorrow... I don't have internet at my apt. 313-806-5816
Thanks!
Katie

Mario Marshall
mariom@g.clemson.edu

Is there anything in particular that you all want to talk about?  I thought about just hearing each others ideas and pick what each us like the most.

· A Video
· A Social Media site, such as Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, Tumblr, Flickr, or whatever else…
· A Document Design:
· Some form of website, which might be a blog, which you're familiar with already.  You can also create free websites at wordpress.com, wix.com, moonfruit.com, yola.com, webs.com, weebly.com, and sites.google.com, as well as other places.
· An e-mail account set up especially for this project.

Katie Lanza
klanza@clemson.edu

I'm not sure what we could do. I don't know if I understand the project, are we just making a scavenger hunt video?

Ramy Ismail
rismail@clemson.edu

Sorry guys I didn't see this earlier. I guess we need a topic first. Random ideas:

depression (stolen from mr. butts)
internet addiction
violence in videogames/movies/tv steroids in sports organic/health food industry

i don't know i'm just throwing stuff out there. if you guys think it would be easier to talk this through we can meet on campus or something.