

World Geography Lesson Plan

	Monday 2/24	Tuesday 2/25	Wednesday 2/26	Thursday 2/27	Friday 2/28
Objective	Students will examine the causes and consequences of global income inequality by analyzing economic, social, and political factors that contribute to disparities between nations and within societies. They will interpret data and evaluate potential solutions to address economic inequality on a global scale.	Students will examine the causes and consequences of global income inequality by analyzing economic, social, and political factors that contribute to disparities between nations and within societies. They will interpret data and evaluate potential solutions to address economic inequality on a global scale.	Students will examine the causes and consequences of global income inequality by analyzing economic, social, and political factors that contribute to disparities between nations and within societies. They will interpret data and evaluate potential solutions to address economic inequality on a global scale.	Students will examine the causes and consequences of global income inequality by analyzing economic, social, and political factors that contribute to disparities between nations and within societies. They will interpret data and evaluate potential solutions to address economic inequality on a global scale.	Students will examine the causes and consequences of global income inequality by analyzing economic, social, and political factors that contribute to disparities between nations and within societies. They will interpret data and evaluate potential solutions to address economic inequality on a global scale.
Agenda	1. Bell Ringer 2. Definitions - Google Slides 3. Read "The Geography of Economics" 4. Geography of Economics Assignment	1. Bell Ringer 2. Watch Crash Course "Global Stratification and Poverty" 3. "Economic Development Indicators" p. 113 in workbook 4. Watch and take notes on "Asia's Rise: How and When"	1. Bell Ringer 2. Human Development Index Assignment	1. Bell Ringer 2. Country Economic Development Comparison Assignment	1. Bell Ringer 2. Definitions - Google Slides 3. Read "What Does the Future Hold for Development Around the World" and "Poverty Overview" 4. Sustainable Development Goals Assignment
Homework
Standards	WG.1 Describe economic, social, cultural, political, and physical characteristics of countries, nations, and world regions. WG.3 Connect past events, people, and ideas to the present to draw conclusions and explain current implications.

