Video Book Trailer

Description:

Book trailers are short multimedia products that capture the essence of a book (without giving away the ending) via a presentation styled in the fashion of a Hollywood movie trailer.

Choose your favorite book, and create what you think would be an awesome trailer to get someone else excited about reading it.

Parameters:
- 90 seconds and 3 minutes in length
- be media-rich (including audio, images, and narration with fully documented copyright info),
- easily viewable online.

Needed Materials:
- The Book
- Camera
- Free online video editing software

"Look what I Learned!"
- Click the following link to submit your project with a written description.

Look at what I Learned!

IMPORTANT: By following Digital Citizenship standards (simply put, any media that is not an original creation by students requires documented permissions for use from the copyright holder), Book Trailers may include an image of the book cover (accompanied with a citation in the credits). Materials from inside any book should only be used with documented permission from the copyright holder. Consider using student-made illustrations, music, etc. instead.