Who Is Eddy?

People have very differing opinions on Berserk308, a staff member on the TDH. I feel that it is important for people to know the drama and controversy behind this man. It has been kept under wraps for far too long.

An incident happened last year involving Berserk, the “adjutant” on the Digital Hourglass server. Nexus, the admin, said this shortly after:

The purpose of this document is to reveal the man behind this mask for what he truly is.
And, perhaps, you might think in a similar manner as I did, or maybe the other way.
Regardless. Here’s what happened.

Extra publisher’s notes (5/9)
hi guys
So ive been looking around and I’ve been pretty stressed recently, I read the document again and it looks like it didn’t really fulfill its original purpose of presenting the information for people to decide by themselves. (it had a lot more harassment for more unrelated stuff than I thought. Probably because of the situation and the amount of anger I was in)
I’ll admit the original document was quite biased and a little more hurtful than it should have been, so I omitted a lot of the stuff and this is a republishing of the original Berserk Files.
The original is still out there.

Sorry if the bullying went too far. (but im not going to unpublish the document. The world at least needs to know what you’ve done, Berserk.)

“I like girls feet”

The events leading up to May 18, 2024

Please see for yourself the messages sent between him and an underage girl in 2022.

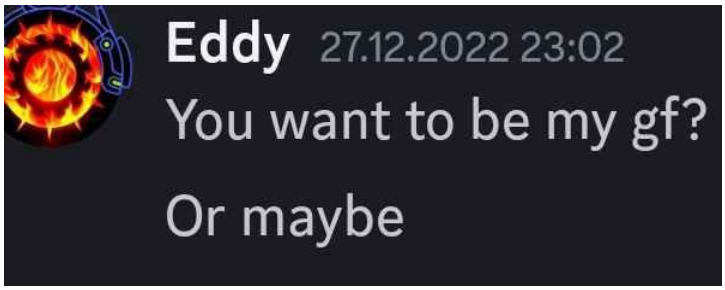

okay???

There’s a victim here, we’ll just call her “victim” for now. Victim said she was “2009” (13 YEARS OLD.) and he was made aware of this. For context, according to Berserk’s profile, he was born in 2005 (17 Years at that time)

his instagram for context

edoardo.minuti (instagram)

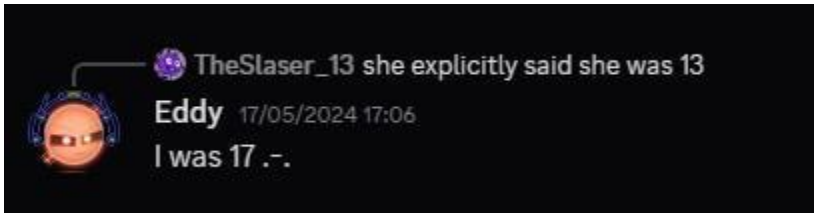

Literally 13 hours after victim told him she was a minor and he was 17:

"aspect" are you implying you want to see a minor's body shape?
Personally, I think that's just disgusting.

(2 years later)

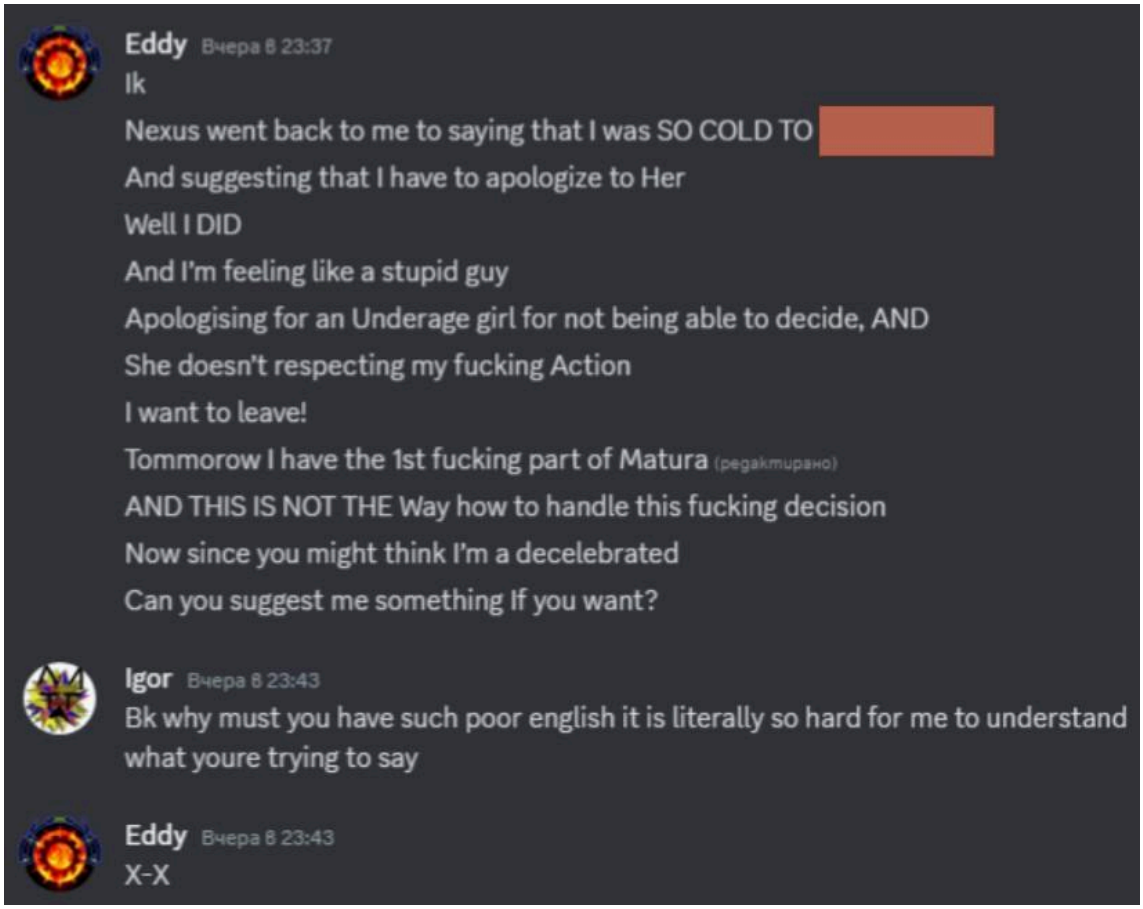

"im 17" 4 year age gap = beginning high school senior and an almost graduated 8th grader

After that incident, the victim and Berserk had much tension between each other which leaked into TDH and led to the victim's banning. This is what he said to others after the incident.

May, 2024

The victim and Berserk were on the server and had much drama between each other for a very long time. It took 2 years for the admin of the server to figure out exactly what happened between the two. Shortly after deliberating with Digital Hourglass he sent this:

For further context, the “adjutant” role is technically between good samaritan and moderator, but he has much greater admin permissions.

Also, this last part…

Beyond May 2024

The incident appears to have shown Berserk that Nexus supports him no matter what. As a result he slowly became more oppressive and controlling, gaining power in the process. He also became much less likable. There were multiple events occurring after May 2024 that eerily echoed what happened 2 years prior.

After what happened, berserk never stopped with his manipulative attempts.

This happened in fucking February mind you

Other things that happened after the original incident:

  Axeun banned from TBKS because she wouldn’t get with him

Ending notes for Berserk

Berserk, I know one day you will read this paper. You might be horrified at what you’ve done or angry that this paper somehow got out to the world, or maybe a combination of both. Regardless, no one’s gonna ignore the fact that you did all the things featured in this document. There’s a lot more I could have exposed you for had the victims given me their permission.

I am a firm believer that everyone has the capacity to change if they repent for their actions. No one will forget what happened, but people who don’t want to change, who push it away from themselves in the hopes of people just forgetting, will never change. If you want to be a better person and finally end this reign of drama, please recognize that you did these actions. You need to address your wrongs. Maybe then can some of your audiences forgive you.

It is clear, though, that none of us will ever forget the events that led to May 18, 2024.
