HTML Assessment Criteria

Level	Success Criteria	Badge
4c 4b 4a	Understands basic structure of the World Wide Web. Can create a correctly structured web page (DocType, html, head, title, body) Can modify and use basic HTML tags (paragraph, bold, italic, underline, line break)	Website Novice
5c 5b 5a	Can code bullet and numbered lists in HTML Can use the <table>, <tr> (table row), and <td> (table data) tags to code an HTML table. Can use the tag Can use the border and colspan attributes to change how a table looks Understands difference between relative and absolute links Can use anchor, image and comment tags effectively with appropriate attributes (href, src, width, height, alt, title) Can combine some HTML elements and attributes to create a mostly functioning website.	Table Expert Media Master
6c 6b 6a	Can use the style attribute to style simple HTML (color; background-color; font-family; font-size; text-align) Can reference colors using more than 1 form of value (name, RGB, Hexadecimal) Can combine most HTML elements and attributes to create a functioning website with a clear purpose. HTML code is organised (including comments) and efficient.	Inline Styles
7c 7b 7a	Can style blocks of HTML using tag and/or internal style sheets. Can combine HTML tags, elements and attributes efficiently and effectively to create an organised and effective website. Care has been taken combine text, colors, layout, links and embedded content in a manner that supports the website's functionality.	Inline Styles