Personality

Phlox is confident in a way that feels like he was born knowing he could handle whatever life tossed his way. He walks and speaks with purpose, and rarely doubts himself even when he probably should.

He believes in his own strength, and everything else he can depend on. That belief makes others believe in him too, even if they don't always want to admit it.

He throws himself into life with both paws open. He is always full of the need to experience it all. Everything is an opportunity to learn something, to win something, or to just gain the experience he desires.

When Phlox is around, the world feels louder, brighter, more alive. He brings energy with him wherever he goes, and the aura he radiates makes it impossible to ignore.

There's something magnetic about the way he talks. He could convince anyone to listen to the words he says. Nothing gravitates others more than the force of his charm.

Phlox knows how to keep others engaged, how to spin a story or a compliment just right.

He loves to play... maybe a bit too much, or at the worst of times, but it's endearing enough that it's not hard to forgive his desires. It's never a loss for him when he's just having fun.

While gift giving would be his love language, his body language is play. He treats even the serious moments with a light touch, never wanting the weight to sit too long.

Phlox is fiercely loyal to a fault. Once someone earns a place in his heart, they've got a permanent spot, no matter what they do.

He will defend them, protect them, speak for them no matter what, even if he knows they could be wrong. His loyalty is deep-rooted, emotional, and impossible to break without breaking him.

He sometimes carries himself with a bit of smugness, often acting like he's already won whatever challenge he's walking into. He likes to make sure that whatever he does is seen by others.

For all his confidence, Phlox is easy to fool. He believes people too quickly, gives trust too freely, and rarely questions if things are just convincing enough.

It's not that he's not smart, he just wants to believe others are as good as he tries to be, and it hurts every time they prove him wrong.

He's incredibly protective of those he cares about. At the first sign of trouble, he's always ready to stand up for them.

But he doesn't always know how to balance it. Sometimes he oversteps, guards too hard, and ends up smothering or snapping when he should've listened.

Phlox ends up feeling things just a bit too deeply, even if he doesn't always show it in obvious ways. A harsh word, a cold shoulder, a mistake.. He takes a lot more things to heart than he lets others realize.

His emotions bubble beneath the surface, and when they burst, they're messy.

History

~Header~

Phlox was born the second kitten of Bonnie and Aspen. His siblings were Moss, Tansy, Lichen, and Clover. There was little to nothing in his mind, only intended to be close with his brothers and sisters. He looked forward to being big enough to go out into the orchard and explore.

He quite loved the values of the family, and hoped to make a name for himself. Not to mention, he dreamed to make his family proud and be able to do what he set his mind to.

Other

★ - voice claim is Prompto from Final Fantasy XV

- ★ - favorite colors are gold and crimson
- ★ - Built for stamina, physically looks like his father but is built like his mother. Thin and quick, fur kept nice. Small paws
- ★ - Seems to appear rather feminine, but has no intentions to portray as female. He's not afraid to get girly with his sisters. The type of man to proudly wear pink
- ★ - Loves to decorate his fur with flowers, highly depends on the values of the Colony
- ★ - Seems like the type to dream to be a Knight to defend his Colony, but would be just as happy as a Groundskeeper or Traveler. Would also fall very well into a leading position if he had to
- ★ - Loves to go out into the deepest part of the orchard and climb a tree, just to have a moment to himself and regain thoughts. He especially does this when he's stressed, often looking to the apple blossoms for good luck
