

Zeb's T.O.S

Making this now that I can take paypal commissions and such!

Welcome to my T.O.S

When you purchase something from me whether it be a commission or a design these rules will always apply.

My social media is ZebzzTown on Deviantart and Toyhouse! My Discord is ZebzzTown. You may contact me through these platforms however discord would be the best as I am more active on there!

I am a legal adult so images containing nsfw are ok for me to look at but I do not take nsfw commissions at the moment.

Payment

I take full payment upfront via Paypal USD/ deviantart points (specified on post usually but you may always ask)! When taking paypal payments I will always usually request your paypal email to send an invoice unless stated otherwise.

If in the end I cannot complete your commission/custom whether it's I no longer have time, illness, or I am uncomfortable (etc.) with it I will offer a full refund.

If you request a refund and the commission is 50% or more complete it will be a half refund as I still put effort into the art given and still had intentions to finish. You may receive a full refund if the commission was at the sketch or lineart stage.

With customs if you request a refund it will be 50% and you give up the rights to the design back to me as I made it. You are not allowed to use the design at all unless I give permission and you will be blacklisted if you do.

For adopts and designs full payment is always upfront. You must pay within the 24 hours you claim a design from me unless you have messaged me requesting a larger deadline. You will not receive the design until the payment is fully processed.

Payment plans accepted for payments over $150.

Process

Commission time depends on what the commission is and what time I have!

I will typically let you know/update you on how long it will take and if anything gets in the way

I will send a sketch and the finished lineart upon request!
With Customs I will always send the sketch and finished lineart.

I am a human being in school so there may be some commissions that take longer than others so please be respectful and patient! If i don't message you after a few weeks feel free to send me a message but if I update you please do not send me multiple messages everyday asking me where it is.

You may request a deadline, however if I see the deadline as unreasonable I will refuse and refund.

If you feel the quality of the custom I have given you isn't up to your expectations please feel free to tell me so I may polish things I've messed up!

Feel free to ping me anytime but please don't do it everyday lol

Use and Permissions

You may use my art for banners, profile pictures, and icons WITH CREDIT.
If you do not credit me then I will ask you to or request you remove it.

You may resell my designs for the price you commissioned it for or lower.
Only sell it for more if they have commissioned art worth money

You are NOT allowed to sell my designs/art as products or NFTs. By doing so you are violating my terms and I may seek legal action.

You are allowed to turn my designs into sonas.

UPDATE: You may ask to turn art I've made into charms or stickers or plushies, but if it is being mass produced to be sold I will request at least 15% of profit. You must ask me before doing this however

You may alter a design I've made, however you must keep the design credit as me as I created the original design (you may add yourself as designer but please keep my name)

You may not remove my name from art credits for art I've made

Please do not remove my watermarks
