Hi [Insert name],

I've found an online training course called Application Infrastructure for Clean Architecture, and I'm requesting your approval to make the purchase.

The course teaches a design method that actively supports and enforces the implementation of architectural decisions. It also covers the Clean Architecture principles and uses it to showcase how an infrastructure should be setup to make sure that it will be implemented.

Based on the trainer experience, content and testimonials I've seen, I believe I'll be able to bring back actionable techniques that I can apply to improve on quality and predictability in our software projects. These would contribute to our efforts to [add job-related goal here].

You can view the course curriculum, components, and other details here:
<https://clean-architecture.net/>

It's a 3-half-day live workshop with the instructor, an experienced software architect and trainer, Florin Coroș, who has 20+ years of experience in the field.

The course is held online via Zoom, and it won't require airfare or lodging expenses. The total cost is €1120. There are some group discounts available if we would be more interested.

Thank you for considering this request. I'm happy to talk with you if you'd like any further information.

Regards,
