BIOGRAPHY

Born to Aude and Sigrund in Cliffside Hold, the twins were inseparable from an early age. When Rikvi discovered she was a mage, she began learning her craft with gusto. Not to be left behind, Vald soon became a warrior for the Hold. Rikvi had visions of the twins’ greatness--Rikvi becoming Augur and Vald becoming Thane of their own Hold. When the clan became divided after the death of their hold beast, Rikivi and Vald left with a small group of Avvar to found their own Hold. Rikvi’s visions brought them to the nest of a dragon, and upon killing it, the twins earned their legend marks--Rikvi Dragon-Skull and Vald Stone-Crusher.

The flourishing Falcon-Nest Hold frequently had their wandering Augur and Thane take to the lowlands--to learn about the Blight, or go raiding in far lands, or to aid the Inquisition that found home in one of the sister peaks.
