What were some of the challenges faced by long-distance voyages?

Storms, cold weather, lack of sleep.

How did Polynesian travelers deal with these challenges?

They have wet weather gear.

Why would being below the horizon make it tricky?

They can't navigate as easily.

Imagine being on a canoe with dozens of people for weeks. What would make it hard? What would help make it easier?

Not being on land, being sick of the place. Lack of equipment. Hard to get and keep resources. They would be more people to help
