RE: Maanasi, Sai

Dear Ms Balakrishnan,

I have always felt that it is imperative to have a good two-way doctor patient relationship with any patient that is treated in my practice. Unfortunately, I don't believe we have been able to establish this connection. In order to get the type of dental care you are looking for, I feel as though you and your family would be better served at another dental office.

I will forward your records to another dentist at your request. I will be available for 30 days for emergency treatment only, so that you have adequate time to find another dentist. If you have dental insurance, you should call your insurance plan and ask for a listing of their providers. If you do not have insurance, there are many dentists listed in the yellow pages and online.

Please make sure that you seek care as soon as possible so that your dental health is not adversely affected. We wish you the best in your dental health care.

Sincerely,

Brady Pope, DDS
