Appearance:

Amber is a tall woman with light red hair and light purple eyes. In CS1 she wears the standard Class VII uniform during the week, on her free days she wears a lilac cardigan over a yellow sundress with white flats. She has long hair often styled in a ponytail, a scrunchie can often be seen on her right hand in various colours. In CS2 during the civil war she wears a black crop top jacket over a yellow shirt, black combat boots and red pants. In CS3/4/reverie she wears a lilac mini jacket over a white blouse, an orange skirt, brown boots, her hair now styled into a bob and traded in her scrunchie for a hair clip which sits on the left side of her head. is described by her friends and allies as pretty and her face which can also be described as childlike innocence outside of battle. In battle... is a different story.

Background:

Amber was born in a small town in Erebonia to loving parents. They lived a happy, normal and loving life without any problems. Amber was always a curious child growing up, she loved to explore the woods near her house and write down/sketch anything she discovered. One day while her parents were away on business, Amber is exploring the woods as usual when she is surrounded by a pack of wolves who weren't native to the area. Amber closes her eyes and clutches her book to her chest already prepared to meet her fate. When she opens them she sees the wolves on the ground defeated but a strange girl in front of her with twin tailed brown hair and red eyes (Estelle) saves her and takes her back home. Amber learns that she is a bracer and thanks her for saving her life. She then asks how she could be as strong as her. Estelle chuckles as she rubs Amber's head and says a lot of hard work and practice, Estelle also encourages Amber to not be like her and go to school first before even thinking about being a bracer. Years later at age 16 Amber asks her father to train in combat in order to be able to defend herself. Thanks to her encounter with Estelle years ago she opts to use a Bo staff and is a natural with it. During their practice her father tells her that he can sense how powerful her natural strength is and warns her to only use her full powered strength in case there are no other options available to her. Amber agrees and thanks him before they call it a day. Two years later Amber enrolls at Thors Military Academy wanting to pursue her calling as a bracer and to be able to make sure that she can protect everyone she loves.

Personality:

Outside of battle, Amber is very friendly and cares for all of her friends. She is a bit dense and aloof when it comes to romantic feelings from guys but the same can't be said with girls. She also loves teasing her friends and has a good sense of humour. She is great with young children and loves it when they call her big sister. Despite her innocence Amber is very smart and can figure out things quicker than anyone and is very skilled with various engineering problems.

Amber has a deep admiration for Estelle and bracers in general after saving her life, which has led her down the path of wanting to become one in order to protect everyone she cares for, even complete strangers. She often asks Sara for advice on being one sometimes and even helps Rean sometimes during their free days while in school.

During the civil war, she returned home to ensure her parents safety and hoped that Rean would be able to find everyone soon so that could put an end to it somehow. After the war and Crow's death she quickly noticed how Rean was acting and privately called him out reminding him that it wasn't just affecting him alone.

After graduation, Amber is now living her dream happily and is a bracer alongside Fie and Sara. When she reunites with Rean in Heimdallr during the first day of the summer festival she teases him calling him Mr Ashen bachelor causing his students to question him again much to his dismay.

After the revelation that Crow is alive and the truth behind the black records, Amber curses herself for not seeing it sooner but picks herself right back up knowing that the battle has only begun. Her heart breaks when Millium sacrifices herself and Rean loses his sanity slaying the cursed holy beast.

However, her hopelessness and dismay is dashed aside knowing what she has to do and hearing Juna's speech to everyone. Amber picks herself up again and eventually frees Rean from the clutches of Ouroboros and the Black Workshop with everyone.

When Crow comes back into the fold, the first thing Amber does is to knock him on the head with her staff and calls him an idiot for what he caused from helping start the civil war to trying to die again without trying to atone for his sins but ultimately accepts him back along with the others.

At the end of the great war, Amber happily goes on a trip all around the continent in order to push herself as both a bracer and as a person wanting to inspire the next generation of up and coming bracers and is present when the call is made to storm the Retributive Tower.

After all of that and a newly regained independent Crossbell, Amber asks Alisa out on a date and the two eventually become more.

In battle, Amber is completely different. She is more intense and focused. She is usually on the front line formulating plans in her head. Her mastery of the bo staff is unmatched and her power is also unmatched. She does her best to support everyone and by the end of battle she is exhausted already asking for a bell cola or a slice of pizza laughing.

Trivia:

- In CS1 she is in the Lacrosse club and loves to play with the young children in Trista.
- She is close with everyone in Class VII especially with Rean, Elliot and Emma.
- Her favourite food is Pizza especially with extra cheese and pepperoni. She also knows how to cook.
- Really good at playing chess to the point where both Machias and Jusis are even scared to challenge her to a match.
- Loves to collect plushies: especially anything to do with Poms or Mishy.
- Loves to bring out her charms with her clothing but lacks the courage to wear skin tight clothing like Angelica.
- Usually the first to make fun of Sara's inability to land a boyfriend whenever Sara brings it up.
- Her only fear is losing the people closest to her if she was powerless to stop it.
- Skilled at engineering as much as George if not better than him.

- She and Emma are usually the ones helping Fie and Millium with classwork and exam prep.
