

WAYS TO SUPPORT LIVE MUSIC VENUES AND CREATIVE ARTISTS DURING COVID-19 CRISES

1) Show your virtual support to the artists you love.

- FOLLOW EVERY ARTIST YOU LOVE ON YOUTUBE, SPOTIFY & SOCIAL MEDIA ACCOUNTS.
- IF YOU CAN, *BUY* THEIR ALBUMS ON BANDCAMP -- This benefits the artist directly. You can stream your music on any device through the bandcamp app.

2) Show your virtual support to the venues you love. Many are providing online services and live streaming during this time. Here are some of my favorites in NYC.

- THE MET OPERA

- BRIC
  - For over forty years, BRIC has been giving Brooklyn a platform and a gathering place. This unprecedented public health crisis has forced us to close our doors and cancel our public programs through April 30, if not beyond. We're quickly transitioning into providing our offerings, from performances and classes to scripted series and podcasts, on our digital platforms, but we need your help. - CMON EVERYBODY
  - C'mon Everybody will be offering ways for you to remain engaged with us. We are reaching out to our friends, our musical family, and our DJs and will be offering exclusive new mixes, and clips of live streams of past shows via our Soundcloud and Youtube channel. Follow us on IG and Facebook for updates on that.

- BROOKLYN ACADEMY OF MUSIC
  - IG and Facebook
- BARBES

3) Advocate for financial support for artists and others in the gig economy as well as live music and art establishments who are affected by the crisis. If you'd like to be in touch about specific actions to take, please fill out this form and I'll add you to an email list that I'm compiling:
