Welcome: Jarred Azevedo

Welcome to Geek IO, your weekly dose of geekery, episode #241, the summer movie smackdown auction, recorded Thursday the 19th April 2018! I'm your host and MC Jarred, I'm CJ, I'm Raul, I'm Dale, I'm Kerry, and I'm Josh. Joining us this week: Jaz happy fluffy ice cream intro, Charles McFall

Now for our sometimes overly-complicated rules!

Each "player" gets 100 virtual dollars, and we bet (starting at 5$ - going up by at least 1$ each) on a series of 30 movies that are going to open between April 20th 2018 and August 24th 2018 with the official closing and winners to be announced at our live Dragon Con Episode.

Our bets are ONLY on the FIRST TWO WEEKS of the movie's wide release in the United States, and based on U.S. Box Office Gross only, provided by Boxofficemojo.com.

Then, the amount of money that is made by the movie in those two weeks, will be divided by how much the winner paid, and that is the value added to their scores. So, for example, if someone bids $100 on Valley Girl, and it only makes $100 million in the box office, the winner only gets $1 million added to their score.

We are going to fight, drink, laugh, and be entertained! Hold on to your butts!

- On liquid handicap, Daleeeeele struggled through as he had to chase waterfalls, get chased by kong eating piranhas and moisture ladies!
- S4 has their brains melted by Legion
- On The Mana Pool: An invitation to dinner with the Crown Prince of Tolvera brings our adventurers up to speed on just how wide-spread of a threat the assault on Tolvera may yet become. A hopeful delay in the invader's absconce gives them a moment of reprieve to collect their thoughts, information, and a plan to advance forward. Will they uncover the means necessary to succeed in their newly beseeched quest?
