

Privacy Policy for Slice n Dice

Effective Date: October 21, 2025

Slice n Dice (“the Game”) respects your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains what information is collected and how it is used.

1. Information Collection

The Game does not collect, store, or share any personal information. It does not access your contacts, files, or location.

2. Leaderboards (Liluo / GDevelop Services)

If you choose to submit your score, the Game sends a score value and a player name (which may be any name you choose, including an anonymous one) to the Liluo leaderboard service, hosted by GDevelop.

- No account or login is required.
- The name you enter and your score are stored publicly on the leaderboard.
- No other data (such as IP address, device information, or email) is collected or used by the Game.

You can view the GDevelop privacy policy here: <https://gdevelop.io/page/privacy-policy>

3. Analytics and Ads

The Game contains no ads and no analytics tracking.

4. Children’s Privacy

The Game is suitable for all ages. Players should avoid entering real names or identifying information when submitting scores.

5. Data Security

All leaderboard data is managed by Liluo (GDevelop). The Game itself does not store or transmit any other data.

6. Changes to This Policy

If the Game’s features change in a way that affects data use, this policy will be updated before release.
