Use the JavaScript API to create a more seamless Issuu experience on your site. Simply embed the viewer on your web pages, and control it from JavaScript using standard function calls and events. API Methods: Bookmarks, Document, Folder http://issuu.com/services/api/
		Hyperlink Actions		You can make links inside your documents to perform different actions, like jumping between pages, downloading the document, printing and much more. Adding hyperlink actions to your publication is identical to adding any other hyperlink to your publication. The different actions, like jumping to a certain page, are activated by adding different URLs corresponding to the type of action you want. Adding hyperlinks to your publication is done in your layout software (like Indesign, QuarkXpress, etc.). http://issuu.com/services/customize/links.html

		Machine tags	nara:arcid=1634221	Now that machine tags have been added to Flickr images, new mashups, or combinations of data and images, can be created. For example, someone using our ARC data sets available through the NARA Open Government initiative can now synch up that catalog data with data pulled out of the Flickr API from our photostream — all of the comments, tags, and descriptions that go along with that image can be mapped to the original catalog data. With countless ways to visualize and mashup images and data from our holdings, the possibilities of what you could create with our photo sets are now even more endless and hopefully a bit easier. http://blogs.archives.gov/online-public-access/?p=1569

		Amazon RDS: Amazon Relational Database Service or MySQL in the Cloud for Ruby On Rails		маштабируемый сервис (реляционных) баз данных. например, у нас 20 проектов платформ типа интербригад, МС или РГДБ. если запросов к базе много, то база начинает провисать. в этом случае обычно люди мучаются с разнесением баз по разным серверам и пр. в случае с RDS, мы можем просто повысить мощность сервера. или просто повышать мощность сервера в соответствии с суточными пиками http://onrails.org/articles/2009/10/29/amazon-rds-amazon-relational-database-service-or-mysql-in-the-cloud-for-ruby-on-rails

OCR server process..

1. Output: one raw text OCR'd file (including from images)
2. Zoning: when an original document is intelligently broken into sections (articles/columns in newspapers; images/tables/text)
3. Structuring: automatic separation of fields: author, title, main text, etc.
4. Indexing: automated selection of index terms which comes as an addition to the main OCR'd text: people/company names, product names, geographic locations, etc.
5. Data mining: more advanced analysis and processing of OCR'd text to establish dependencies, patterns, etc.

+ API

additional idea:

- provide storage and keyword searching service over OCR'd text. On-the-fly database of semi-structured data.. + image of original documents. Tobaccodocuments can serve as an example..

- provide stable URL to docs;
- + possible back office for manual data structuring and metadata assignment
