Irene has a really bad cough at the moment. She was coughing all through the night. The strange thing is that she doesn't feel any other symptoms though.

Barry is a psychologist and studies murderers and the reasons why people murder.

When we are little, our teachers teach us to hold scissors properly, so that if we fall, nothing catastrophic happens!

I wish I had studied literature at university and became a professor. I love language and I know that I would thoroughly enjoy my job if I were a professor of literature.
