

Dear Wild One,

The Wilderness is an online (and soon to be in-person) community for the Wayfinders, change-bringers, Heart/Womb aligned creatives, and tenders and nurturers of these multidimensional realms who are remembering and returning to their own way. The Wilderness is for she who is courageously embodying her Truth and unapologetically shining her Light. It exists for the woman who is:

- building and living from her remembered codes
- embodying the innate wisdom of her sacred Heart
- rooted within
- fully surrendered to her Soul
- being called into her power so that her life, her business and her complete way of being is devoted to the Truth of her individual creative spirit
- desiring to experience sovereignty of self as well as the power of community

Are you being called to live, be, create, and operate in a completely different way and find that what you once did no longer works?

Are you feeling a bit alone and desiring a community that can and will walk alongside you as they are being similarly called?

Are you finding that your path forward (in your personal life and/or in business) can no longer be something out of someone else's playbook?

Do you feel unsure of how this will look and find yourself desiring spaces to be seen and witnessed as you navigate what this looks and feels like for you?

Is your Truth calling you off the beaten path into the wild, unknown?

Do you find yourself desiring to know that, while you know you must walk this path on your own and no one else can do it for you, you aren't doing it alone?

If so, The Wilderness could be exactly what you've been looking for.

Beautiful Soul-

When no one else's way will do, when you can no longer see beyond where you are, when logic no longer makes sense and the only path forward is through the unknown, then all that's left is the Wild Way. This is the path to creative independence where you become the way because you- your Heart, your Soul, your Womb- ARE the way.

The Wilderness is the wild call of your sacred Soul living in union with your holy Human and where you receive the luxury of living whole and true.

The Wilderness is your Truth, embodied.

It's YOUR way

It is the ache within

The one that cannot be touched by doing it someone else's way

It requires your energy, your voice, your creative spark

It requires your Soul

Your genuine authenticity

You natural blueprint

Your remembering

Your revival

Your resurrection

YOUR Return

The Wilderness has always existed inside of you; it is the uncharted territory within just waiting to be (re)discovered.

The Truth is: we are the wilderness and in this, in The Wilderness, we return to the wildness of our own unique way of being which reminds us this is where we have always belonged.

This space is for:

She, who is remembered.

She, who is restored.

She, who is Returned.

The Wilderness supports connection with Self, your wild, sacred Heart, the Great Mother, Herself, as well as Sisterhood reminding us that "right relationship" within ourselves mirrors the power of conscious partnership in community.

Here, in The Wilderness, we will play, explore, have adventures, and know that with every breath we take and every step we make we are returned to our deepest, wildest, most unexplainable Truths.

No matter where you are in your journey, there is always room for you in The Wilderness. Through its innate expansiveness you can arrive True because your Truth is more than enough and you are forever, inherently worthy of having a seat at the table.

The Wilderness revives sacred, unconditional love for Self that will reverberate into the far reaches of the Universe and activate kindness for others.

Here, in The Wilderness, relationships are reciprocal and symbiotic. All who come and give are equally and reciprocally tended to, cared for, nourished, and unconditionally loved and supported.

As you return to the Wild One within, the great tender and nurturer of the Divine's seeds and dreams within, the Green Witch of your Heart, the Wild Daughter of the Great Mother, you return to the Truth of who and what you've always been: whole, wild, worthy, and abundantly, sovereignly free.

From Hers to Yours,
Heather

Two ways to play (for now):

For FREE:

- a. Revive- a bi-weekly invitation to activate conscious play + one's wildness
 - i. Meant to inspire your individual creative spirit (with monthly themes?)
- b. Replenish: 30 min/month guided experience
 - i. A pause for Self-initiation so as to obtain, maintain, and sustain more deeply rooted inner alignment

For $11/mo (FREE offerings + this circle event):

- c. Renew: 1 hr Circle/month to integrate the ever evolving/involving connection to Source, Self (Soul + Human), and Sisterhood
 - i. Sacred time for Sisterhood Sharing to witness She who is The Wild One

When you are ready to play, go HERE.