ABSTRAK

Abstrak dalam bahasa Indonesia ditulis antara 150 – 200 kata. Abstrak harus memuat latar belakang masalah, tujuan, metode, hasil, dan kesimpulan.

Kata kunci: kata kunci 1; kata kunci 2; kata kunci 3; kata kunci 4, dst

ABSTRACT

Abstracts in English are written between 150 – 200 words. Abstract must contain Context of the Problem, objectives, methods, results, and conclusions.

Keywords : keyword 1, keyword 2, keyword 3, keyword 4, etc

INTRODUCTION

The introduction must contain (in order) a general background, a literature review as the basis for the scientific novelty statement of the manuscript, the scientific novelty statement, and the research problem. At the end of the introduction, the objective of the study must be stated. The entire introduction section must be presented in integrated paragraphs.

The formatting for the text from the introduction to the conclusion is Times New Roman (TNR), 12pt, with single line spacing. For manuscripts written in Indonesian, examples of citation styles are as follows: thesis/dissertation citation (Riyadi, 2014), journal article citation (Syatno dkk., 2016), book citation (Adhitya dkk., 2009), and seminar/proceedings citation (Charles dkk., 2015). For manuscripts written in English, the word “dan” must be replaced with “and”, and “dkk.” must be replaced with “et al.”

RESEARCH METHODS

This section of the research method contains an explanation written scientifically using the passive voice, detailing the research design, data sources, data collection techniques, and data analysis methods used. The methods applied must refer to methods from previous studies, except for manuscripts concerning method development.

Subheading (e.g., Data Analysis)

Data xxxx are expressed as mean $\pm$ SD. Data were analyzed using the xxxxx method with a confidence level of x%.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

The results and discussion section contains an explanation of the analytical results related to the research questions. Every research finding must be discussed. The discussion should include the significance of the results and a comparison with theories and/or similar research findings. The length of the results and discussion section should be 40–60% of the total article length. If tables and figures are included, they must be referred to textually within the results and discussion section.

Table 1. Anova test results of the average inhibition zone diameter of the combination of garlic, ginger, and turmeric extracts against the growth of Staphylococcus aureus bacteria

No	Treatment	N	Average	p-value
1	Aquadest	3	0,00	0,000
2	Garlic, ginger, and turmeric (3:3:3)	3	12,66
3	Garlic, ginger, and turmeric (3:2:1)	3	13,16
4	Garlic, ginger, and turmeric (3:1:2)	3	14,33
5	Garlic, ginger, and turmeric (1:2:3)	3	16,67
6	Garlic, ginger, and turmeric (2:1:3)	3	15,33
7	Garlic, ginger, and turmeric (1:3:2)	3	13,66
8	Garlic, ginger, and turmeric (2:3:1)	3	12,50

CONCLUSION

The conclusion section contains the research findings in the form of answers to the research questions or as the core essence of the discussion. The conclusion must be presented concisely and clearly in a paragraph format without any literature citations.

DECLARATION OF COMPETING INTEREST

The authors declare that this manuscript is free from any form of conflict of interest and has been processed in accordance with the applicable journal rules and policies to avoid any form of publication ethics violation.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
