

House Ladybright ☆☆☆

By Ammika

Resume

☆ Whitegrove

☆ Banefort

☆ Lots of other things

☆ CastleConstruction

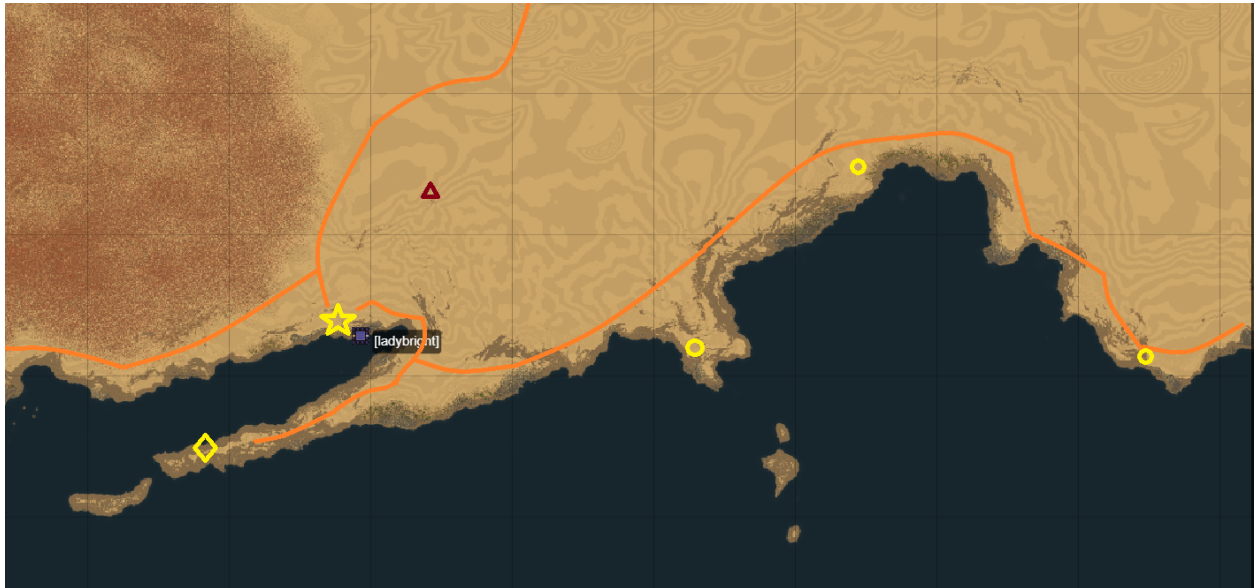

☆ Norridge Vassal

Canon ☆

All that is known of house Ladybright is that they are a noble house in Dorne; words and house/banner colors are not known either. Lady Alyse Ladybright serves as lord treasurer in Sunspear for Prince Doran Martell; she is one of two members of the family to make an appearance in the books, the other being Jayne Ladybright.

Based on the name 'Ladybright' I can only assume that this house is made up of gorgeous women that are always girlbossing (in the name of Allah, of course) and living their lives to the fullest.

Plans ☆☆

Settlements will be scarce in this area with the star being the main “town” if you will. Greenery will be minimal and even rare in some places - homes will primarily be made of mud bricks or stone with wood being prioritized for making boats to fish in.

The castle will be on the tip of the bay - will heavily resemble an Ottoman fortress instead of a fancy castle. My plan is to have this be a modest keep with the main focus being on defense from anyone coming from the sea.

The star is a small port town named “Lady’s Port” and will only consist of about 15-20 houses (mainly lower class). There will be ruined walls protecting some areas of the town - defense is not a major concern here as it doesn’t seem likely anyone will march in from the desert.

The smaller yellow circles are rural settlements that will have 5-6 homes each. These are the only areas where you will find any kind of civilization. Farming here is minimal due to water scarcity; people here survive off of the sea and the spices they grow.

Lastly the red triangle will have sparse ruins around the area - who doesn't like cool desert ruins? Maybe will have a cool Indiana Jones Petra easter egg somewhere

Tests ☆☆

All tests will be located on my plot (/warp Ammika) my laptop literally cannot handle saving another file it will explode

Terraforming will be attempted by me + anyone who wants to teach me would be great :)

Inspiration ☆☆

Thanks for reading!

This has been an Ammika Production - special thanks to my cat Ezra for giving his input on the inspiration images

Special thanks to my wife for just existing

Also I have covid :(