

SAFETY

Safety is paramount to everything we do. With over 29 years experience in the industry, we know what we're doing, and we have thorough procedures in place to ensure your well-being.

SAFETY FIRST

The safety, security and enjoyment of our customers is our absolute number one priority. We've been in the business since 1988, and our safety procedures have always been fundamental to every aspect of what we do. Our equipment and procedures are continually assessed, and done in accordance with national and international industry standards.

SAFETY PROCESSES AND PROCEDURES

We're quite the pioneers when it comes to Bungy Jumping. So, after we opened, we quickly recognised the need for a written set of rules for commercial operations. We instigated the Code of Practice in 1990. This was written with the help of a variety of industry partners from the adventure, construction and tourism sectors. It's now an industry standard for Australia and New Zealand, and used as a guideline throughout the world.

MEDICAL CONSIDERATIONS

Before you Jump, Swing or Zipride, make sure you're well rested, hydrated and have recently eaten.

Tell your Bungy Crew if you have high or low blood pressure, heart conditions, epilepsy, broken or fractured bones/dislocations, fragile skin, neurological disorders, diabetes, asthma, prosthetics, panic/anxiety attacks or any recent sprains/muscular injuries.

Unfortunately, we can't permit pregnant activity-seekers, or those with photosensitive epilepsy. And if you have osteoporosis, scoliosis or a recent concussion, we'll need to see a doctor's certificate.

Wear glasses? For safety reasons, they may not be able to be worn. However, prescription safety glasses are available, free of charge.
