

Early Autumn strife threatens Bagritznian Elections-

Nasra L. Bahimi, AP Balkan Desk Reporting-

8 OCT 22- 13:00 Local time

A tense presidential debate between Basel Cervanek, (Tzaganoi Homestead Party,) and Ahmet "Mike" Demiri, (Bagritznian Heritage party) was interrupted by chaos as a suicide bomber detonated themselves in the middle of the audience. This act marked a strong turn as suicide attacks have never before been seen in Bagritznian conflict.

Local UN forces linked up with ASP and TYR units to secure the site, secure and remove the presidential candidates, and extract the grievously wounded to the local UN Surgery Center. Both Cervanek and Demiri were unharmed, though Bagritznian Orthodox Bishop Jovan Popovich lost his right eye in the blast. When reached for comment, he exclaimed "Eloi, eloi, lamech Sabachthani!" His publicist attempted to clarify that "the Bishop is going through a tough time and will return to his responsibilities very soon."

An ASP unit known as Core & Corsair, were responsible for rapid casualty control and deft handling of blast patients en route, and inside the UN compound, even as in the confusion of TF:TYR and ASP units began firing on each other in what was otherwise understood to be a weapons free zone.

Despite the battle that broiled around the countryside, UN Inspectors immediately went to work, tasking both ASP and TYR units with investigating alleged terrorist safe houses. TF:TYR unit "Dark Detachment" was said to have handled their assignment "superbly" maintaining control and precision under stressful situations. Both the ASP and TYR units assigned to the safe houses returned with evidence that an outside force was using charities to funnel money into Bagritznian groups unsatisfied with the election.

As darkness fell, extremist groups attempted to kidnap elements of the respective political campaigns and hold them for ransom; however it may be an early indication of the level of operational ability on behalf of the extremist groups as they seemed to pick their victim's very rescuers as defenders... All candidate's publicists and financiers were recovered without firing a shot. Rumors abound that corrupt payments and a conspiracy to create weaponized fertilizer were also stopped by TF:TYR and ASP units but the details remain unclear.

By late evening on 8 OCT alarming reports that the ruins of Granviste, Brdo Sap Kuci, and even the UN compound were teeming with foreign fighters aligned with the Extremist State of Europe (ESOE). ASP reported casualties, TF: TYR operators moved between their lines, and "Wanted" Posters of both TF: TYR and ASP leadership were found scattered throughout the Southeast of Western Bagritznia.

9 OCT 2022- 10:00 local time

By Daybreak, these early ESOE probe units were dispatched and the locations they took returned to either ASP or TF:TYR control. Control over the countryside was razor thin as each faction pushed each other off a mountain only to be pushed off that mountain again by reinforcements.

Additional support networks in country were discovered as TF: TYR and ASP raided more safe houses and began to paint a picture of the ESOE network's involvement in Bagritznia- with a foreign financier setting goals, providing training, and suggesting targets to local extremists unhappy with the direction Bagritznia is heading in.

In a show of bravery, and a last ditch effort to get out the vote, both Basel Cervanek and "Mike" Demiri canvassed the countryside along with TF:TYR and ASP security cordons respectively. Each made a point to tour the hottest zones of the area, meet with locals of all nations, and generally promote the cause of local democracy. In a bizarre anecdote, ASP units made a point to hunt and harass Cervanek's entourage- at one point causing multiple civilian casualties, and at another point killing the entire entourage but leaving Cervanek unscathed. Living to canvass again with another TF:TYR unit, Cervanek was quoted as saying "ESOE or ASP, no terrorist will stop the will of the people of Bagritznia!"

Despite this setback, Cervanek was able to travel the countryside and see more locations, and take more pics with locals. However, in another show of contempt for democracy, ASP units reportedly blockaded the UN's Western polling station (thought likely to produce a Cervanek win). Election chicanery was alleged as a notable percent of the votes tallied were for neither Cervanek nor Demiri, but for alternate causes like "Gay Raptor Ubez" and "Elderly Cobalt." Despite the prolific getting out of the vote by Cervanek under extreme pressure and the support from TF:TYR commandos, when the votes were all tallied Ahmet "Mike" Demiri was declared the victor in this year's Presidential Election. He will be coronated next May when the UN Provisional government stands down and the Bagritznian new government stands up.

One final note of excitement- The election results were almost overshadowed by a flurry of activity, as the UN identified and located, while ASP and TF:TYR units scrambled to arrest the ESOE financier responsible for the recent spate of terror attacks in Bagritznia; UK-Pakistani Lawyer turned terror financier J. Khaled Luerzi, ESQ. He was found not far from Brdo Sap Kuce and Smuggler's Bay and recovered by ASP fighters without a shot being fired. He and his entourage have been rendered to another site for investigation.

Reporting from Kurahsan indicates that Leader of ESOE himself, Otto Bakir envisions Bagritznia as a foothold into the "European landscape of decadence and evil" and while he "Categorically denies involvement" he "both understands and supports all brothers in the struggle anywhere they pick up a sword against the apostate."

Outcomes-

As usual, we provide these scores as a means to illuminate growth areas, as well as tally how your actions will impact the next chapter. They should not impact your memory of the event, and should be used for reflection and growth.
