

Missing out on wins

Hello Magnolia,

I came across your instagram and it peaked my interest.

The aesthetic pictures were indeed beautiful but I noticed a genuine commitment towards stories. It is a great way to connect with your audience on a regular basis

While I was looking into your presence on social platforms, I noticed a few things which you might consider.

I realised you don't have a Facebook account. You might be MISSING out on sales because Facebook is a great place to drive traffic to your products.

Being on your webpage , your blog came to my attention. It might not be the most crucial part but it plays a MASSIVE role in turning leads to clients.

I already have GREAT ideas concerning both of these topics. If you are interested, I can forward them to you for FREE.

A quick Example of a better caption in your last post:

Bored in traffic? Or on a long car trip?

Stop testing your patience, We have the PERFECT solution.

RCP CARPLAY screen

Together, we could take advantage of several areas with untapped POTENTIAL such as those aforementioned and much more.

Kind Regards,

Mithilesh