The work force 1 centers are what YOU make of them. They actually have a superb stock of resources. Five years ago I went in expecting them to find me a job. The interviews they were sending me on were jobs I could have found on my own. So I stopped going & found a job on my own/independently, They offer career counseling, resume help & updating or interview coaching- which I didnt need. But this is wonderful for those new to, or returning to the work force. The facility is state of the arts, very clean & modern with all the current softwares.

Its a busy place & people come there for different reasons. Ive seen inexperienced & ghetto people in the waiting area getting anxious and distracted & frustrated by the overwhelming traffic. These are sometimes the same people with no work experience but either want an advanced grant or to apply for the same position as some one with 15 years in their field. Thats unrealistic. Work force 1 offers several training programs in order to build skills & make some one a more attractive candidate/job seeker. From what ive seen/heard from my visits is that most people naively expect to walk in, and walk out employed with a great high paying job, whether they have the credentials or not. Ive also seen incidents of highly skilled/educated people offered marginal positions. The job counselors mostly try to place people in jobs ASAP. There is a difference between a job and a career.

Self-Employment Assistance

Purpose

Self-Employment Assistance offers dislocated workers the opportunity for early re-employment. The program is designed to encourage and enable unemployed workers to create their own jobs by starting their own small businesses. Under these programs, States can pay a SEA allowance, instead of regular unemployment insurance benefits, to help unemployed workers while they are establishing businesses and becoming self-employed. Participants receive weekly allowances while they are getting their businesses off the ground.

This is a voluntary program for States and, to date, Delaware, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New York, and Oregon have active Self-Employment Assistance programs. The State Workforce Agency websites for these states can be accessed at <http://www.servicelocator.org/QW/SLinks.asp>.

Eligibility

Generally, in order to receive these benefits, an individual must first be eligible to receive regular unemployment insurance under State law. Individuals who have been permanently laid off from their previous jobs and are identified (through a State's profiling system) as likely to exhaust regular unemployment benefits are eligible to participate in the program.

Individuals may be eligible even if they are engaged full-time in self-employment activities - including entrepreneurial training, business counselling, and technical assistance.

Benefits

SEA allowances are the same weekly amounts as the worker's regular unemployment insurance benefits. Participants work full-time on starting their business instead of looking for wage and salary jobs.

Filing A Claim

You should contact the State Unemployment Insurance agency as soon as possible after becoming unemployed. At the time you file your claim you should ask whether a Self-Employment Assistance program operates in your State.

Unemployment Insurance Extended Benefits

Purpose

Extended Benefits are available to workers who have exhausted regular unemployment insurance benefits during periods of high unemployment. The basic Extended Benefits program provides up to 13 additional weeks of benefits when a State is experiencing high unemployment. Some States have also enacted a voluntary program to pay up to 7 additional weeks (20 weeks maximum) of Extended Benefits during periods of extremely high unemployment.

Eligibility

Extended Benefits may start after an individual exhausts other unemployment insurance benefits (not including Disaster Unemployment Assistance or Trade Readjustment Allowances).

Not everyone who qualified for regular benefits qualifies for Extended Benefits. The State agency will advise you of your eligibility for Extended Benefits.

Benefits

The weekly benefit amount of Extended Benefits is the same as the individual received for regular unemployment compensation. The total amount of Extended Benefits that an individual could receive may be fewer than 13 weeks (or fewer than 20 weeks).

Filing A Claim

When a State begins an Extended Benefit period, it notifies those who have received all of their regular benefits that they may be eligible for Extended Benefits. You may contact the State Unemployment Insurance agency to ask whether Extended Benefits are available.

Trade Readjustment Allowances

Purpose

TRA - Trade Readjustment Allowances are income support payments to individuals who have exhausted Unemployment Compensation and whose jobs were affected by foreign imports as determined by a certification of group coverage issued by the Department of Labor.

Eligibility

The Federal Trade Act provides special benefits under the Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program to those who were laid off or had hours reduced because their employer was adversely affected by increased imports from other countries. These benefits include paid training for a new job, financial help in making a job search in other areas, or relocation to an area where jobs are more plentiful. Those who qualify may be entitled to weekly TRA after their unemployment compensation is exhausted.

Filing A Claim

Contact the State Unemployment Insurance agency or One-Stop Employment Service office and ask for information about filing a Petition for Trade Adjustment Assistance. The Petition for Trade Adjustment Assistance must be filed with the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL). If DOL approves and certifies the petition, the affected workers will be entitled to file a claim under the TAA program. Assistance for workers laid off for other reasons may be provided by the Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (WIA)

As an employer, you'll benefit from more efficient recruiting, more targeted training, and assistance with training expenses:

- OJT specialists help you find the right talent when you need it, reducing time, effort, and money spent on recruiting.
- The specific technical skills you need may be hard to find. OJT helps you train the right workers to meet your requirements.
- You receive up to 50% of the costs to provide on-the-job training for individuals you hire through the public workforce system.

The U.S. Department of Labor's Employment and Training Administration (ETA) supports a wide variety of programs to ensure that all youth have the skills and training they need to successfully make the transition to adulthood and careers. These programs include:

- Apprenticeship - Apprenticeship is a combination of on-the-job training and related classroom instruction in which workers learn the practical and theoretical aspects of a highly skilled occupation. Applicants for apprenticeship programs must be at least 16 years old and meet the program sponsor's qualifications.
- Job Corps - Job Corps is the nation's largest and most comprehensive residential education and job training program for at-risk youth, ages 16 through 24. Private companies, state agencies, federal agencies, and unions recruit young people to participate in Job Corps, where they can train for and be placed in jobs.

College Application Fee Waiver FAQs

College application fees can really add up, but there's good news. Every income-eligible student who takes the SAT or SAT Subject Tests using a test fee waiver can choose four colleges from over 2,000 participating colleges and apply for free. These waivers will be delivered online to eligible students starting in late August.

Why did I receive college application fee waivers?

If you registered for and took the SAT or one of the SAT Subject Tests using a fee waiver, you are automatically eligible to receive four college application fee waivers. Read more about SAT fee waivers.

I have registered and taken the SAT using a fee waiver. When can I expect to receive my college application fee waivers?

If you are a senior and eligible for college application fee waivers, you will receive them when you get your SAT score. If you are a junior and eligible, you will receive them in the fall of your senior year. In the meantime, search for colleges that accept application fee waivers.

The office of your elected officials can be the best place to turn to get free help. They are in the best position to be aware of the free help and services that are available in your community as well as the state or national level. Your representatives also have the most power to help and have the biggest motive to help.

- Their Power... The government bureaucracy that provides money and services to the community relies on the elected officials for their money. You may pay the taxes but it is the elected officials who “control the purse strings” and determine the budgets and salaries for government bureaucrats.
- These government agencies have special backdoor phone numbers to handle requests from elected officials while you and I have to wait in line at the front door.
- Their Motive... Elected officials WANT to help you because if they are able to make a phone call and get you the help you need, you will vote for this official no matter how many sex scandals they have.

To find you elected official put in your zip code here:
