★ Entry 1.

Enrolled

Name: Molly "Mawa" Oddessa

Department: PokeArts (Battling)

Ace Pokemon: Her prized Mawile, Tsundera.

Bio: An aspiring ruler of the world. No? The next Queen of the countr- Also no? What about Mayor of the town? ...Being the strongest Gym Leader will do then.

Molly spent most of her childhood trapped in the confines of her family owned hotel in Jubilife. It wasn't until she snuck out one night and found the nearby Pokemon Mansion, owned by the esteemed Mr. Backlot that she found something to live for besides eventually taking over the family business. Every other day she'd find herself sneaking out to visit the mansion and Mr.

Backlot. Through him she learned to love Pokemon more than ever before. Through his battle obsessed staff and grandchildren she learned the art of battle and also grew to love it.

Of course she was eventually caught by her parents and after a heated argument she was administered a personal guard Pokemon and caretaker that would allow her to explore safely. Molly then took the opportunity to follow her new found dream of defeating all of the Sinnoh Gym Leaders which afterward led to her desire to become the strongest gym leader in the world.

She currently has no interest in the Pokemon League unless it becomes an obstacle in her conquest.

★ Entry 2

Name: Cerami

Ace Pokemon: Muffins (Zorua)

Bio: 3000 year old witch who lives in the woods with pokemon who've ended up staying with her. Despite the fact that she can float she uses a magic carpet to get around
Hair changes with the seasons much like a deerling
She usually ends up tending for people and pokemon who get lost in the woods, though you'd be hard pressed to find her earthen cabin if you went looking for her specifically because it's cloaked in strong illusion magic

★ Entry 3

Name: Seven

Academy Staff

Ace Pokemon: Jolteon - Ioh, is a Pokemon who has accompanied Seven since they were both younger. Found riding on a piece of ice in the piers of Snowpoint City, he became, along a young Sneasel, into one of Seven's best friends after being saved and spending time with the lonely aspirant to trainer. He almost never leaves his team and, even if the Sneasel was first, he is considered as the Pokemon leader of the whole family. Even after evolving, he kept his carefree and childish behavior, but during battle, he's a fearsome fighter against any opponent.

Weavile - Shirona, is the actual first Pokemon Seven befriended. She was a curious Sneasel who'd always go to play with him. After an incident in the Snowpoint Temple where he protected her from a Golbat, ending with him poisoned, he was forbidden to be around Pokemon again. But his love for Pokemon was stronger, and after staying in the city while his family moved to Unova, he began his first training with her as his first Pokemon. A calm-minded but very fierce and merciless fighter, she always has an aura of seriousness around her, but is actually a very kind Pokemon who'll always help those in need.

Bio: Seven, a 25 years old veteran trainer native from the beautiful Snowpoint City, Sinnoh. Since childhood, he spent his life with the native Pokemon from the area. His first two Pokemon and friends were a Sneasel who he saved from a horde of Golbat, which caused him to end severely poisoned and forbidden from being with Pokemon by his parents, and an Eevee who arrived at the pier on a chunk of ice. Deciding to stay in Sinnoh when his family moved to Unova, he began his journey at the age of 12, his goal being becoming the strongest trainer of the world. Pretty easy, right? <http://pastebin.com/mVME9aDb>

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/R5YRiyQf>

★ Entry 5

Name: Bastian "Bask" Redian

Ace Pokemon: Altaria "Tari" and Tyhplosion "Rumble"

Bio: Descendant from ancient refugees born on archipelago somewhere between Hoenn and Johto.

He travels across the world finding new pokemon species and helping his kinsmen in maintaining pokemon harbor founded on archipelago long time ago by their ancestors.

★ Entry 6

Name: Blake White

Ace Pokemon: Marty (Ampharos, his original starter Pokemon)

Bio: Blake is a 16-year old young man from Sinjoh, a diverse region populated by the descendants of settlers from the Johto and Sinnoh regions. After almost getting through the Pokemon League circuit in his home region, he decided to return to his hometown and become an aide for Professor Palm, a historian who studies folklore and mythology involving Pokemon. Blake regularly gets sent out to do field work, which he enjoys as it's a great excuse to sneak in a few battles from time to time.

★ Entry 7

Name: Ryan Magika

Ace Pokemon: Eva the Dragonite

Bio: Ryan started in Kanto with his Squirtle, his ace however, quickly became his dragonite. After losing the Indigo league he went on to battle in other regions but never got anywhere big. He eventually went on to Kalos where he [spoiler]beat Ash and [/spoiler] had some more luck. He got into some shenanigans with Serena and Team Flare before he eventually lost [spoiler]against Ash [/spoiler] in the Kalos league, getting farther then he ever had before. He would shortly after retire

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/NvYRHZu>

★ Entry 8

Enrolled

Name: Lora Yorke

Department: PokeArts (Battle)

Ace Pokemon: Glatissant (Eelektross) stands by her side, as her starter and oldest befriended pokémon.

Bio: Lora considers herself more of a tamer than a battler, who loves befriending typically terrifying pokémon and spoiling them like children. Lora herself is rather jolly and loves learning things, keeping herself engrossed with books, film and documentaries, and tends to dress in lots of different outfits depending on her mood. Lora's simple goal is to befriend as many pokémon as she can.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/JdWXJZze>

★ Entry 9
Enrolled

Name: Zera Blanco

Department: Exploration (Archeology)

Ace Pokemon: Porygon-Z

Bio: A researcher into the inner workings of pokemon. Loves being out in the field, looking for the next big discovery.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/7p6pM6gm>

★ Entry 10

Name: Jacob Jafari

Ace Pokemon: Hierophant (Serperior)

Bio: Jacob is an older trainer from Unova, setting a quest to be the best...even if he's a little late to the proverbial party.

★ Entry 11

Enrolled

Name: Jane Decker

Department:

Ace Pokemon: "Forge" - Ditto.

Using its Red Card, can take a role that the rest of the team can't cover at the time, while switching the enemy out unexpectedly. Very playful and affectionate. The two also enjoy "cuddling".

"Pavise" - Shuckle.

The star player of Jane's Triples team, able to take away the foe's momentum and slow them to a screeching halt, using a combination of inhibiting, team supporting, and offense to take on whatever life throws at him. Extremely gutsy and brave, likes to feel invincible.

"Exusia" - Aggron (Mega)

An impenetrable bastion that holds Jane's team together in Double battles. Paired often with fast, offensive allies, foes are never left with an easy option about which to attack, and if they try and spread the damage, her RestTalk set can keep her going for the whole battle while Jane's Noivern drops the bass. Is Jane's mount of choice (not in the same sense as the Ditto). In or out of battle, she has the disposition of a berserker, and only when Jane calms her is she not a crazy rage beast. Can be a bit of a sweetie, but is quick to anger.

Bio: A tomboy who likes to dress girly. Impetuous yet lazy. Generally kindhearted, though her ability to help others is severely hindered if she's cozily slumped in a couch at the time. Has questionable hygiene, a love for the tournament setting, and an obsession with racing games and shitty MMOs. Physically, Jane is rather wimpy and frail, but tries to make up for this with tons of bravado, regardless of the situation. Her one physical advantage is speed; she's a very good sprinter (even as she typically wears heels), can react quickly and move out of danger, but has terrible stamina and becomes winded very quickly.

Her goal is like many others; being the very best, and in a field a lot more fun than most, probably in order to avoid the guilt of being a NEET.

★ Entry 12

Name: Salvatore Alexandria Hannigan

Ace Pokemon: Rider [Bisharp] quite the relentless blade.

Bio: Sal grew up in a sort of seedy environment, her name is a mish mash of different ones due to being adopted and not knowing her real name. She is tough and someone harsh, but cares deeply for those she trusts and often has issues trusting those she does not know. She is a hunter and a skilled one, relentless and determined.

AEVETERNAL | DEVIANART
I-AN-AEVETERNAL | TUMBLR

★ Entry 13

Name: Camille Fernier

Ace Pokemon: Beatrice (Altaria) & Gilen (Shiny Gallade)

Bio: Born in Kalos and hasn't been out of the region all her life, she aspires to travel everywhere for the sake of wanderlust.

★ Entry 14

Name: Amanita Muscaria

Ace Pokemon: Red (Shiny Shroomish), always following her, never used in battles.

Her usual fungi friends are Breloom, Parasect and Amoonguss (and respective base pokémon).

Bio: While not a sociable girl Amanita is not invisible to sight, reason of that being her huge mushroom hat. While her appearance is that of a child, she is actually 16yo, and aspires to become a Pokémon Breeder and open a Pokémon Daycare. She is introverted and shy, but mature for her age. The big hat makes her movement goofy, and she bumps into stuff with it often.

It's unknown why she doesn't take it off... maybe it's stuck? She currently lives in a secret base, near the natural habitats of her mushroom pokémon friends. Grass is her favourite type.

★ Entry 15

Enrolled

Name: Lainey Lovecraft

Department: Exploration

Ace Pokemon: Minerva, her Staraptor, who is used to mostly battle with.

Bio: Lainey is one of few adults who didn't go on a journey with their pokemon, instead working numerous jobs and battling on the side as a hobby. Relaxed and at times incredibly lazy, Lainey is resourceful and loves to prove she has the right stuff. Despite this, she tends to be a little on the dumb side, but is smart enough. Oh and sometimes she does reckless stuff. Don't mind that.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/Hdgg53U3>

★ Entry 16

Enrolled

Name: Jamen Smith

Department: General Studies

Ace Pokemon: Lida the Vulpix, usually being carried around by him since she's nearly as lazy as he is.

Bio: Not the most interesting of trainers, Jamen enjoyed a slower paced life in Sinnoh, consisting primarily of relaxation, or laziness depending on who you asked. He did poke around a little near his home, but he never really decided what he was going to do with his life, always trying to put it off until later. That all changed when his parents decided he needed to get some more worldly experience and shipped him off to the Pokemon Academy, hoping he can find something more to do with his life than sit around all day.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/Wj3hDqR4>

★ Entry 17

Name: Aila "Somber" Page

Department: PokeCare (Training)

Ace Pokemon: Echo - Noivern.

One of the first pokemon Somber managed to befriend and later capture. He's been there for her for a long time and has become a powerful ally through the years.

Bio: From first looks Somber appears to be a bit of a lone wolf. Quiet, to herself, not very fond of people, however on getting to know her, she is actually quite the cheery and kind person.

Her primary goal is to become a great trainer for her pokemon sake, but also as something to do with her life, seeing as she has no other direction to go.

Somber is a natural born psychic, born from a family of well known psychic. Sadly, despite this, her abilities as a psychic are rather lacking and the most she can do is levitate small objects like pokeballs. This has become a bit of a complex for Somber and a basis around her apparent lonesome behavior. Somber is not very fond of her family as from the start of her life up until she ran away to become a trainer, they pressured her to become a better psychic and nothing else. There was no room for growth at home and after a certain point, the young girl could no longer take it making the decision to run away, adopting the name Somber and eventually meeting her partner Noibat truly beginning her life as a trainer.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/TkAXVX0p>

★ Entry 18

Name: Demi

Ace Pokemon: "Holy Moley" - Excadrill, Female.

Demi's closest and oldest companion, never seen inside of a Pokéball. Despite the size of her claws, she's able to perform the precision tasks that Demi is unable to, lacking hands. Moley was an offspring of the Excadrill (referred to as "Big Momma") that raised Demi from early childhood, and shares a truly rare and close bond with Demi; the two are practically sisters, and are always in-synch with one another. Always one of Demi's strongest fighters.

Bio: Raised by Ground-type Pokémon after getting lost down an Onix-hole at a young age, Demi has had very little exposure to human society. Having learned to live, dig, hunt, and bond with them, her mannerisms are more like those of a wild Pokémon. Though she eventually got to know other humans in the Underground (which to make a long story short explains her gear, drills for forearms, and language), it is uncommon for her to head aboveground, and rarer still for her to enter populated areas, doing so only for the sake of supplies, or if something grabs her curiosity. Demi is unique in that she does not use Pokéballs most of the time, and does not typically travel with a full team. Instead, her "team" is built with individuals of different species from colonies she's lived among, learning their ways, so that they can consider Demi their ally. As a result, she usually won't have access to much of her team at once, but if there is an event or battle planned the next day, she can easily seek out and gather her team with her, in which case she will use Pokéballs to easily transport them together. Interestingly, Demi has such a deep affinity with some Ground-types that she can sometimes make random, wild ones fight alongside her, though they won't follow precise orders and will usually be of low levels.

★ Entry 19

Enrolled

Name: Aries Demetriou

Department: Fine Arts (Art)

Ace Pokemon: "Gaga" - Milotic.

Gaga was a Feebas when Aries first met her, she was given to him as a reward for winning a drawing contest in his childhood. At the start he didn't like the pokemon, he thought she was very unfashionable and didn't understand why anyone would give that pokemon as a prize in a contest where aesthetics were so important.

As the days moved forward, and as he grew up, he started using the pokemon as a model and grew up to liking him, in his teen years his fashion sense started developing, and one time he managed to do something he was really happy about, which resulted in the two beings establishing a true connection, causing Gaga to evolve.

Bio: Aries is a 21 years old man who was born in Cyllage, he was always very interested in art, and he started drawing at a young age, he tended to hang around with the girls, having an easy time chatting with them, but he was usually pushed around by the boys, who teased him for his mannerism, and treated him poorly.

Despite Aries' distinct behavior, he had a very calm life, his mother was a very open minded person, who helped him through his hard times. When he was 16 years old, he came out to the world as gay, he had some problems with his conservative father, and some people in his high school were negative about him, but his friends helped him through it.

By the time he graduated high school, he spent a few years getting some small jobs related to fashion and design, but struggled to move forward, therefore he decided to enrol in the academy to find his inner artist

Diary: [placeholder]

★ Entry 20

Enrolled

Name: Lavrenty Vasevold

Department: PokeCare (Breeding)

Ace Pokemon: 5 Zoroarks, one of which is Shiny -
Lav was breeding to get a shiny Zorua, with the intention of giving away the leftover pokémons, but he grew a liking to them so he decided to keep and train them until they evolved into Zoroarks. Most like to play pranks on other trainers and pokémon, and even though Lavrenty doesn't want any more eggs, they keep breeding without his consent.

Bio: The 25 year old was born in The Under, ending up joining the military at a young age (around 15) to run away from his abusive father. He was positioned in the bomb squad, causing him to have a unconscious, strong fear of the concept of time stopping, specially in a pocket watch he always carried. Got kicked out some years later because he was sleeping around in with the general's wife. After that he moved away from the region, becoming the star of porn flicks and working on the side for a short while for a criminal organization, using the knowledge he got in the bomb squad. He ended up entering the academy to get education he couldn't while growing up.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/gJKtBv5d>

★ Entry 21

Name: Dr. Simon

Ace Pokemon: Primeape, Infernape

Bio: Simon's youth was average. His family was of average wealth, a Unovan family growing up in Kanto. He was always extremely curious, even from a young age. He was observant, too. In his twenties he had earned a PhD in psychology. At first he went unnoticed in the scientific community, but several studies of his made him a laughingstock in most circles-- His fascination with old Sinnoh legends led him to investigate the difference between Man and Pokemon, based on the old stories of Man and Pokemon once being one. He conjectured that if a human isolated themselves from society and other humans, they would slowly become more and more pokemon-like in mannerisms and thought.

After taking years of torment, and coming up with every possible way to prove to his peers he wasn't stark raving mad, he disappeared one night. He'd sent letters to his peers, which arrived a few days later detailing that he was going to Unova and going to 'prove the simpletons who doubted him wrong.' This caused greater amusement of his peers, until they realized he actually had bought a plane ticket to Unova, and his house had been foreclosed on. He was presumed dead several weeks later, many of his family members keeping up hope-- Maybe old Simon was right-- and maybe he was out there.

Of course, he was. He'd shed all trace thoughts of being 'human.' After a few months of isolation in an uncaring wilderness, where the man with no Pokemon could be found by law officials or dangerous pokemon at any moment, he eventually befriended a Mankey using his wits and quickly asserting himself the superior of the two. Soon he would find a Simisear, Simisage and Simipour and earn their trusts too. The five would battle any trainer unfortunate enough to enter their forest, taking things such as food, Pokeballs and medicine instead of cash as their reward. Soon they grew bored, and had acquired a wagered Chimchar and abandoned Ambipom. After several years of monotony, the group grew tired. Storing his friends in Pokeballs to reduce the load, Simon snuck onto the luggage compartment of a random plane, and booked it when the plane landed on the Citadel.

★ Entry 22

Enrolled

Name: Maximillien "Max" Beauchesne

Department: Exploration

Ace Pokemon: Shaolin (Infernape), who was at Max' side as soon as he was old enough to explore the surroundings of Solaceon Town. Great battler and as curious and thrilling for experiences as him. Greer (Tauros) is also Max's ace, but less than Shaolin. He's strong, reliable and careful - also great when Max's legs are tired. His other pokemon are Vlad (Crobat), Temper (Gyarados), Achilles (Gabite) and Levie (Roserade).

Bio: Although his family comes from Kalos, Max was born and raised in Sinnoh, in Solaceon Town. He would spend almost all his time around the town, feeling like a real explorer, with Chimchar playing along. Most of all, what he liked best was the Solaceon Ruins, which gave him his passion for unexplored regions, mysterious places and unveiling secrets. When his family had to move back to Kalos, his parents - who had always been supportive of his Indiana Jones spirit - accepted to send him to the Bellum Academy, in the Exploration dept. He immediately joined the Scavenger Club, happy to meet people with the same hobbies. Max is cheerful, usually down to earth but sometimes also a dreamer. He likes trashtalking and being cocky but it's often just a way of teasing, his wit is sharp but he's actually kind, loyal and knows when it's time to stop fooling around and start acting serious. Max likes to work in team, but he's not afraid of being quite the loner - although when you have pokemon, you're never really alone.

★ Entry 23

Enrolled

Name: Harley Radmacher

Department: PokeArts(Battling)

Ace Pokemon: Fierybutt (Infernape) : He had been with her ever since she began her very first journey in Sinnoh. Being a monkey Pokemon, he's filled with mischief and is pretty rowdy and playful, almost like his trainer.

Bio: Harley is wanderlusting and ambitious, like any other Pokemon Trainer there is. She's quite silly and childish--not much of the "prim and proper" girl but more of a wild one. There's nothing special about her tale; she travelled all over Sinnoh on her motorcycle and battled trainers and such just for her own amusement.

★ Entry 24

Name: Ayane Saeki

Department: Mythology / Science

Ace Pokemon: A Vulpix called Tsuki.

Bio: Because of her parents job, Ayane spent most of her life without them. She used to stay at her grandfather house in Johto, where he told her a lot of stories about mythical creatures able to control day and night, and how he spent his life searching for them - without success.

When she turned 14, he gave her a Vulpix, her first very own Pokemon soon to be her bestfriend. Two days later, while she was in school, her grandfather was attacked by thieves looking for money, despite her family not being really rich, and passed out a few weeks later. What she felt was so hard that she decided to befriend no one outside of her Vulpix, not wanting to feel this pain again.

She then decided to fulfill her grandfather dream : meet the mythical creatures of the Sun and the Moon.

While she turned 18, she learned about the Pokemon Citadel and its research section, where she would probably be able to obtain more informations about those Pokemon.

PS : Sorry if there's mistakes, I'm not english ;_;

Diary: -

★ Entry 25

Name: Addy

Ace Pokemon: Mismagius, Gengar.

Bio: A twenty-one year-old from Ecruteak City, Johto. Fascinated by ghost pokemon as a child she set off on her pokemon adventure with a newly hatched Misdreavus by her side. A stint with a local criminal organization left a few questionable, albeit useful, habits and skills in Addy's arsenal. She sees locked doors as suggestions, is always tempted by the allure of treasure and vast fortunes, and will jump at the chance to investigate something mysterious. After touring the well-known regions throughout the world looking for rare and unique treasures, Addy returned to Johto and relocated to Goldenrod City. Her time in Goldenrod is spent working with private investigators, paranormal researchers, and relic hunters.

Quick-witted and often sarcastic, Addy isn't one to shy away from a new adventure. Her signature style includes a pair of comfortable but well broken-in black hightop shoes, black jeans, a black tanktop, a pink plaid button up which is hardly ever actually buttoned, a black leather bomber jacket with white fur, and a pair of gloves. While she has no problem getting her hands dirty, the gloves help erase evidence of her presence in places she might otherwise not be welcome. Her keystone is megacharm kept at the end of a necklace, usually tucked away until needed.

Addy left Goldenrod City for Sileda Island at the request of a mysterious benefactor. Though she is not one to turn down a unique opportunity, the substantial and almost too-good-to-be-true paycheck from the mysterious person or persons did little to sway her away from the job. With the simple instructions of “report what is there.” She departed Goldenrod with her three strongest pokemon allies—Mismagius, Gengar, and Noivern.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/Mc651uX3>

★ Entry 26

Name: "Milky" Milcah

Ace Pokemon: Puppy (Archeops), Issun (Smeargle)

Bio: Milky is an independent courier who delivers mail, medicine, and other packages to trainers in remote locations.

She has a mellow, easy-going personality and can get delayed in making deliveries because she was wandering around or napping. Customers consider her personality unreliable, but her dedication to her work is unmatched; she has never once failed to get a package to its destination. Afterwards, however... Milky is merciless and has left trainers stranded or "acquired" their goods more than a few times when they didn't have her money. Her sleepy, amiable smile can be scary when it comes to getting paid for a delivery!

Due to the perils, and stronger Pokemon, of far-flung locations, Milky's team has become quite strong. She's secured many clients by defeating them in battle, although she's not that interested in battle itself. Occasionally she even has been hired by a Gym Leader or a Professor out on a research.

Her favorite thing is wrestling with her Pokemon and napping with them under the sun. Along with her Archeops, "Puppy," and her Smeargle, "Issun," Milky has a Luxray named "Socks," a Lombre named "Camille," and a Klefki named "Zero." ((Full Team Image))

Her home town is Viridian City, Kanto. Because she spends most of her time traveling on delivery, she doesn't currently have a "home base." Instead, she stays in Pokemon Centers and empty rooms across regions- her favorite houses are in Olivine City, Johto, Humilau City, Unova, and Sunyshore City, Sinnoh.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/RNNAExqu>

★ Entry 27

Name: Tris River

Department: Dept of nature (Exploration?)

Ace Pokemon: Cap the torterra, Tris will rarely leave her starter for longer than a few hours and only if being forced to go somewhere he can't fit.

River the gardevoir, Very fond of Tris when caught as a ralts he decided to join her family and take her last name as his own. Often seen carrying her as he loves to pamper his favorite human.

Bio: Tris while putting on a cold outwards appearance often develops feelings for nearly everyone that shows her kindness often leading her to be deceived and heartbroken. Her Pokemon have started to protect her from potential suitors as to avoid the period of time it takes for her to recover from her heartbreak. She spends most of her time in wilderness keeping eyes on local populations of Pokemon she aspires to be a Pokemon ranger that can settle any dispute in the wilds peacefully.

Pokemon holding laws restrict the amount of Pokemon you can have on your person to 6. Tris holds nearly 12 at a time although going by the rules of 6 per battle as to not create an unfair advantage. She keeps all her Pokemon nearby as the Pokemon storage system no matter how small the chance can still lose Pokemon into cyber space. her primary 6 Pokemon are kept on her belt these include. Her starter Cap although he rarely goes inside the Pokeball except in emergencies. Her Gardevoir

River, her Gyrados Shin, her Heracross Athena, her Flygon Deus, and her Heliosk Hestia, She has 2 ghosts that protect her while staying hidden. Her Gengar Griseous resides in her shadow, She often wears her Mismagius Blair on her head at night. The other 4 pokemon are rescued pokemon that she found in the wilds.

Diary: <http://pastebin.com/ntYSWuhF>

★ Entry 28

Name: Charles

Ace Pokemon: Mega-Gallade, Empoleon, and Gliscor

Bio: Former Champion of Sinnoh, but got bored and passed it on to the last challenger who fought him: Cynthia. All he does these days is study the ruins of Sinnoh and other regions. Despite his vast intelligence and kindness, he's very forgetful and slightly arrogant. His former dream was to be the Sinnoh champion, but decided to leave and pursue his new dream of studying old ruins.

Diary:

● Entry 29

Name: Terra

Department: Breeding (PokeCare)

Ace Pokemon: Marowak (Female, nicknamed Marona); Discovered in Mt. Moon, after a quick battle against her Omastar.

Bio: Terra was never one to battle, really. As a young girl in her early teens, she strayed from the Pokemon catching craze that affected most of her hometown of Pewter City, and most of Kanto region-wide. But, the day eventually came when her father would give her his trusted Graveler to help her explore the nearby mountains. She always idolized Onix, it was her favorite Pokemon by far, and she sought to capture one. Armed with a handful of potions, an Antidote, and several pokeballs, she explored Mt. Moon, looking for one. All she found, however, was an abandoned Omanyte some trainer released back into the wild after reviving it.

Years later, her Omanyte evolved but she didn't get many more team members. Eventually, she caught Onix and a stray Marowak, the latter of which elected to become her companion Pokemon, never found in a Pokeball. After that, she moved away to a quiet town in southern Japan, living by herself with her Pokemon. It was here that she decided to establish a Nursery, caring for other trainer's eggs and young Pokemon.

Diary:

★ Entry 30

Name: Alexander Mason

Department: Battling

Ace Pokemon: Tyrone (Scraggy), Liz (Zubat) and Wyald (Slakoth)

Bio: Alex grew up in Castelia, Unova, as a child of a single mother. At school his grades were mediocre at best, and he resorted to bullying kids out of frustration. Since he had very few friends, he felt lonely and wished for a Pokemon companion, which led him to search for one in Route 4. There, Alex met his first Pokemon, a Scraggy. Together the duo grew stronger and Alex in particular became a somewhat infamous thug. He acquired his second Pokemon, a Zubat, by stealing it from a classmate, but after years passed he realised that what he did was wrong, though it was too late to apologise and give the Pokemon back, he named it after her in her honour, in the hopes of one day being able to give it back. His last addition to the party was caught in the Cloud Forest, on Sileda Island, shortly after arriving. Now, Alex plans on enrolling in the Bellum Academy to become a better trainer and maybe redeem himself.

Diary:

★ Entry 31

Name: Alison

Department:

Ace Pokemon: Her starter and main pokemon is Motley, a Volcarona whom Alison typically addresses as “Mister Motley” because of the pokemon’s overly paternal attitude towards any and all eggs. Motley is a nearly constant companion of Alison’s. He craves attention and can be selfish at times but is ultimately a cuddlebug.

Alison is fond of Smeargle and has many of them for a variety of purposes. She insists that they are the most versatile pokemon and believes that if she had met them sooner in her life that she might have written her dissertation on them instead.

Other notable pokemon include Miranda, a gentle shiny Steelix who participates in contests and unnamed elderly Blaziken.

She has a plethora of pokemon that she has raised and trained. Despite the fact that battling isn’t in her priority, most of her pokemon are bred with competitive combat in mind in case she ever needs them. Most of her pokemon live with assorted researchers or on ranches where they can be studied by her peers when she doesn’t need them at her side.

Bio: Alison is laid back and would rather rest than fight, but she's also a very curious soul who wants to investigate mysteries of the pokemon world. She is extremely patient when it comes to Pokemon.

She hates camping and avoids it where possible, preferring to Fly to Pokemon centers or hotels to sleep.

Alison has a PhD in Pokemon Biodiversity after catching them all and writing Pokedex entries as a grad student for a Pokemon Professor, but she has had trouble finding work since getting the degree and is enjoying being a lazy, unemployed twenty-something.

She spends spare time breeding Pokemon to study their traits. She gives them away to young trainers, usually only keeping one or two babies.

★ Entry 32

Name: Alex Reed

Department:

Ace Pokemon: Eevee - the Pokemon he started his journey with, hatched from an egg given to him by the mother of his deceased friend. It's been his loyal partner and best friend since the beginning.

Blaziken - evolved from the Torchic which he caught shortly after joining the Academy. It serves as his powerhouse Pokémon.

Misdreavus - caught on Halloween during a test of courage in a haunted house. Alex mainly uses it for the occasional Contest.

Bio: Originally hailing from Goldenrod City in the Johto Region, Alex is a second-year student at the elite trainer's school known as Pokémon Academy. Alex occasionally leaves on various journeys for study trips, school projects, and the like. This is a typical practice among Academy students.

Alex is a very friendly and outgoing type, with a passion for both battles and Contests. He hasn't quite decided on the path he wants to pursue in the future, and for now just wants to enjoy his school life and his journeys as much as he can.
