Positive Digital Footprint

Ripples of your Online Actions

An Action Online

(i.e., Posting that you won your soccer game)

How it Affects your Friends and Family/our Class/our School

(i.e., Makes your parents proud, but they're concerned you're sharing too much information)

How it Affects your Community

(i.e., People get to know about your winning team, and may want to sign up next season)

How to Create a Positive Digital Footprint!

- Being kind and respectful toward others at all times.
- Keeping posts positive (e.g., highlight special skills, achievements, helping other people, etc.).
- Humour is a common and great tool, but remember to be careful! Keep humour light and positive by avoiding sensitive topics; and never use humour to get a laugh at someone else's expense.

Can you think of additional ways to build your positive digital footprint?

Go positive, not personal!

Remember to always keep your personal information private, even when creating a positive digital footprint.
