9. Article 4.6 Attendance and Participation in Meetings

Amend Section A as follows (new language underlined; deleted language struck):

A. Attendance and participation in meetings called by appropriate school officials are professional responsibilities. Reasonable effort shall be made to avoid scheduling more than 38 meetings for any teacher. An agenda shall be sent to each participant three school days before the meeting. Although under normal circumstances meetings shall not exceed one hour, participants and conveners should understand that the meeting might take longer and should make every effort to remain. ~~Special interest groups (e.g. BEU, etc.) will scheduled meetings at their own discretion. While the decision to attend any particular meeting shall be left to the individual's professional judgment, such judgement is to be fairly and reasonable exercised. As a matter of normal courtesy, the teacher is expected to notify his/her appropriate supervisor if unable to attend. In addition to staff/faculty/departments~~ meetings, the principal/designee may designate up to two meetings in this Section 4.6A each month for common planning time among teachers in teams, grade levels and/or content areas. The principal/designee may attend any of these common planning time meetings.
