

Lecture Introduction

This lecture is intended to help students understand how to identify a research theme, narrow down a research theme into a topic, and practically apply what they've learned.