Character Creation Guide

Character creation takes time. It is highly advised that you start brainstorming your character early on. You'll be doing yourself a huge favor by taking time early on to ensure your creation is something that you're able to grow to love. Characters that people find difficult to roleplay or boring to play are typically ones that were made at the last second!

NOTE: The requirements in each field are moderately strict. Please abide by them. Communicate with your GM if something ends up being too short or too long.

Public Profile (Player Card)

[1] Name: Paul E. Woggins

[2] Physique: A 25 year old frog man that stands at 5'9" (175cm). Kind of like an overgrown baby, but less in a cute way and more in a... strange way. Definitely on the chubbier end, but that might just be because he's a frog.

[3] Attire: A pair of denim overalls with a big, red tomato embroidered on it. Not really something you see a lot of 25 year olds wearing.

[4] Homeworld: From a regular, modern world inhabited by humans. He's the only frog person, but it doesn't really seem like that big of a deal.

[5] More Info.: Not particularly threatening or gross, but a little hard on the eyes. Has a voice that is generally on the squeakier or nasallier side, and sometimes croaks like a frog.

Private Profile (Character & Universe)

[7] Rough Background: Paul was born to two regular, human parents, much to their surprise. Even though he's a frog person, or rather the frog person, he's never been anything special. He's never been skilled, or funny, or charismatic. Being a frog has never been a blessing to him, but it's not like it's ruined his life, either. Sometimes people will look at him strangely, or ask him what it's like, or tease him like during his school days, but it's never been a major point of contention. He's not very good at speaking, and he doesn't ever quite know how to present himself. He's just always been kind of ugly, awkward, and overall a little weird.

[8] Important Moments: Nothing in particular I guess IDK he's just a guy

[9] Character Relationships: His parents take care of him. He's around humans, but he isn't sure if he feels like a part of humanity.

[10] Motives: He's a good person. He's strange, and awkward, and lonely, but he's as good as they get. He's never angry, or jealous. He's never had to put his life on the line for anyone or anything, but he's the type that would stand in front of a moving car if he pushed someone else away from it, though he's never had to be aware of this. He thinks a girlfriend would be nice, though.

[11] Homeworld: A very standard, modern Earth-type world. Might just be Earth. He is the only non-human sentient person on the planet, but the world doesn't seem to care all that much. He's just a bit of a local oddity, and him being a frog is just something that tends to get brought up once or twice when meeting someone. He's never been on the news, or experimented on by the government, or gotten stuff thrown at for being gross, but he is, ultimately, the only frog person in the world.

Private Profile (Backstory)

If you have additional character information that you want to include (such as short stories or more details about their backstory/homeworld) feel free to post them in their own separate google document and then link that document here.
