

Hi Sean,

Your video “Why your kid doesn’t like you” recently came about my FYP. A blast from the past, dealing with the recurring argument, “All you ever do is talk about school!”

Wish this came on my parent’s FYP years back, lol. To think the number of arguments this would have saved the Dugan household.

I checked out your social media and noticed you have significantly more of a following on your TikTok than your Instagram.

No worries, this is a common trend amongst the parent coaching community.

Instagram’s constantly updating algorithm can be hard to keep up with!

However, there are some ways to get ahead of the learning curve that will build an audience the size of your TikTok on Instagram, translating to more traffic to savemyfamily.us.

Want more parents to find your 1-on-1 Zoom calls?
