

Nagare-reki? (WIP name)

Gin's Busoshoku Haki fuses with his passive vibrations around the body to create a flowing, moving barrier of haki that not only covers his skin, but also shows its effects in his aura. It basically becomes a moving spongy envelope of air coated in haki that is as tough as diamond, yet containing the essence of all of Gin's explosive seismic energy. Some practical applications of this fusion can be:

- Passive Reflective Buso Haki around the body
- Hazy and difficult to see Gin when moving fast
- Absorb shock from blunt forces or ground impact
- Redirection of recoil from massive quakes
