

Amped: The Tournament Tour

"Hello and welcome! Ellie Goulding here, the lucky leader of the UCC stable known as Amped."

"As we all get ready for the Eighth UCC Tournament Series, the girls at Amped have taken to the stage and played many concerts throughout the world in preparation for this important, end of the year event. You can hear from the Amped girls in our usual TKO Magazine article."

"In addition to each of us having our own tours, we've all come together to perform a series of concerts in each of the microstates around Europe. Although we don't know the exact locations for any of the UCC Tournaments, we at least know the countries they'll be in."

"This is a very special event for us. We've expanded to include three new fighters, and Dua has changed weight divisions. That means, for the first time Amped has exactly three fighters in each of the UCC weight classes."

"So, please join me as I whip around the members of Amped and talk about their prospects in the Eighth Tournament Series!"

"I'll start with our three featherweights: Jillian, Rina and Caroline."

"Jillian will be competing in her third Evening Gown tournament. Hopefully she'll perform better than her previous attempt, when she was eliminated in the first round."

"Each tournament consists of 16 fighters, poor Jillian is seeded way at the bottom, in 15th position."

"That's a big hole to dig herself out of and it means that in her first round match she'll be against the number 2 seed, Shanina Shaik."

"She does look amazing in her red dress. At least it should hide any blood stains."

"For Rina, this will be her fourth tournament. She's yet to progress further than the second round, but this could be her time to shine."

"She'll compete in her sports lingerie and she's done well enough to allow her entry as the number 8 seed. Which is a solid entry point."

"Her opening round will be against Shelby Chesnes. It'll be a chance for some revenge, the last time they fought was in the previous tournament and Shelby defeated Rina. That was a stripping submission win for Shelby, I'm hoping that Rina will be the one ripping off her opponent's bra!"

"Our third featherweight is one of our three newcomers, Caroline Polachek. Unfortunately for Caroline and Amped, she wasn't able to get a position in any of the tournaments."

"There are too many featherweights in the UCC and by the luck of the draw, she missed out. We'll have to wait until UCC XXV to see her in action."

"She did perform on stage as part of our Tournament Tour, so our fans had the opportunity to hear her sing and meet her afterwards."

"Let's move onto the lightweight division and Sky Ferreira. She finally managed to end her run of bad luck at UCC XXIV, and considering that she twice won her Denim Tournament, I don't think anyone should be writing her off."

"Sky has a great placement in her tournament and her first opponent is Brittany Raymond, she's beaten her twice before in tournaments. We're all hoping she'll do it again. When her confidence is up, there's no stopping Sky."

"There was great news from Badass Barbies when the lineup for this tournament was announced. Dove Cameron changed divisions and that meant that Louisa won't have to face her in the lightweight workout tournament."

"At four different tournaments it was Dove that eliminated Lousia. With her gone it takes pressure off Lousia and gives her the opportunity to win the whole tournament."

"She starts in 3rd spot and has a relatively easy first opponent with Jessica Lowndes."

"Making her debut for Amped, the wonderful Janelle will compete in her super short mini dress. It will be a trial by fire, with her opening round opponent being Ana Cheri."

"There are often upsets in UCC tournaments, we're all hoping Janelle will upset Ana, but we're being realistic too. Good luck, Janelle!"

"My close friend and fellow welterweight, Charli, will be hoping for an improvement on her last Lingerie Tournament. In that event she exited in the first round, this time around she's the 7th seed and will meet Jessica Chastain in the first round. Good luck, Charli!"

"Tove Styrke will compete in only her second tournament. It's been a rough start for her in the UCC. We're hoping that her 11th placement in the Workout event will kick start her UCC career."

"She just needs to defeat Leryn Franco in the first round. No easy task, but I'll be doing everything I can to help her in the build up."

"As for myself, I'm feeling really positive about my Evening Gown tournament. I've won this event twice before and I'll be going in as the number one seed and the favourite to win. My first round opponent is Bella Heathcote, I won't take any fight lightly, but this should be an easy enough opener and set me up for the next round."

"As always, I'll give it everything I've got and hopefully I can keep Amped near the top of the UCC rankings. I'm currently the 4th highest ranked fighter in the entire UCC. I want to be number one!"

"Moving long to the middleweight division and there are a couple of interesting things to note. All three girls have seeded in fourth spot. Which is an amazing effort! You'd have to say that given such a great position in each tournament, we're in for a real chance to win one of these."

"Marina especially has a great chance. She won the last Swimsuit Tournament and she won the Fifth Series, too. I know she wishes she was going into this event with a win at UCC XXIV, but I also know she's totally recovered from her injury loss against Bar Refaeli."

"Let's go Marina!"

"Beatrice has gone from strength to strength in the UCC. She's won her last three fights and she's ready to go for her Mini Dress Tournament. Her first opponent is Missy Peregrym, and in the past we'd thought a middle of the road Raccoon fighter wouldn't be much of an opponent, but these days Raccoon is training hard and his girls are not to be underestimated."

"If Bea gets deeper into the tournament, she'll probably face off against Kaley Cuoco. In all three of Bea's previous tournaments, it's been Kaley that eliminated her. Oh how sweet some revenge would be."

"Dua has just made the move from heavyweight to middleweight, making her opponents in this event totally new to her."

"She'll face Camila Morrone in the opening round of the middleweight Workout tournament. This is an excellent chance for Dua to stomp some authority onto her new division."

"Hopefully we can put an end to any speculation that Dua is leaving Amped and joining Badass Barbies. It ain't gonna happen!"

"Rounding things out we have our three heavyweights: Ella, Bebe and newbie Becca."

"I'll start with Ella, who just came off a title belt loss against Maria Sharapova."

"It hasn't affected her tournament ranking though, she'll start as the number one seed in her Denim Tournament."

"She shouldn't have any problems in the opening round against Mika Cohen and I know she'll be wanting to go hard at the event."

"If Ella can win this event, she'll have enough ranking points to take another swing at Maria."

"She's not the only Amped heavyweight fighting in denim. Bebe's the 4th seed and she'll start off against Pamela Anderson. That's a much harder start than Ella has. Pam has been fighting well and as I already said, those Raccoon girls are getting better and better all the time."

"If they both progress past the opening rounds, it's probable they'll have to fight each other. I think after this event we'll need to address their attire. We need to get them in different tournaments from each other."

"That leaves me with one last fighter, and it's the third of our new recruits, Rebecca Lucy Taylor. She performs under the name "Self Esteem", but to me and the Amped girls, we know her simply as Becca."

"She'll be fighting in the Evening Gown event, it's not her first choice, that would be lingerie, but the way the draw came out, it put her in 17th seed Evening Gown."

"Becca is fine with it. She's just really keen to get into the cage and prove herself."

"It won't be easy, her opponent is Jasmina Marazita. I wish her all the luck in the world."

"There you have it, guys. The Amped line up for the Eight UCC Tournament Series. It's about to all kick off in December, but for now please enjoy our live performances and rock out with your cock out."

Ellie Goulding XXX