

the secret

don't worry, nobody has the beautiful lady, not really, and nobody has the strange and hidden power, nobody is exceptional or wonderful or magic, they only seem to be.
it's all a trick, an in, a con, don't buy it, don't believe it.
The world is packed with billions of people whose lives and deaths are useless and when one of these jumps up and the light of history shines upon them, forget it, it's not what it seems, it's just another act to fool the fools again.

there are no strong men, there are no beautiful women. at least you can die knowing this and you will have the only possible
victory.
