

Rumors about a Stallion had been spreading about a small town off in the middle of nowhere and because of this, countless fools wish to test if these rumors held any merit or not. What were these rumors in particular? Apparently a stallion showed up one day at the town's local farm, but in doing so caused countless people to vanish overnight and those who remained left out of fear of being next.

What had happened to these people was somewhat unorthodox, as those who did manage to flee to safety spoke of how people who got too close to the stallion ended up pelting, whether it be via countless orgasms or even mention of lactation, but that wasn't all... Others mention how some men changed, turning into mere shells of their former selves and ending up rather feminine, as if their masculinity faltered thanks to the stallion.

There had been talk of a few women not ending up as pelts, instead becoming extremely pregnant thanks to the Stallion's virile musk being more than enough to impregnate them somehow. These particular cases were fortunate to escape with only pregnancy, as most women pelted before the musk could even leave them swollen with foals.

While these rumors should be driving people away from the town, instead it only enticed idiotic challenges to surface. Men and women have tried to approach the town with one idea in mind, which was to get as close to the stallion as possible to prove they aren't scared or possibly better than the wild beast.

Countless fail videos were posted on pelthub, showing men and women failing once they got too close to the stallion. The most popular one showed a male leopard trying to take a video selfie with the stallion from a safe distance, but all the beast did was trot closer and next thing that happened was the leopard spraying his seed without stop and though he tried to run away, the deed was done and he pelted several seconds later.

The amount of failures didn't discourage anyone from still trying, which would be proven today as a pickup drove towards the infamous town with four guys eager to prove themselves one way or another. A grizzly bear who goes by the name George drove the truck, despite him thinking this couldn't be a dumber idea. In the passenger seat, a horse by the name of Lilo seemed fairly eager to get to the town, after all he figured he had the best odds of the group. Napping in the backseat, a wolf by the name of Jake slept soundly, seemingly not worried at all for what was to come. And finally, seated next to Jake, a dragon by the name of Riko, who stared out the window as he eagerly awaited the chance to beat the stallion and prove how amazing he is.

George spotted the town as they got closer, but it definitely looked empty with no lights on or hints of people going about their day. "This is it... You all know what happens if we fail, so don't push it." As the truck entered the town finally, it didn't take long for pelts to be seen lying all over the ground and dried up puddle stains of draining orgasms.

Jake got woken up when the truck came to a stop, as George parked it on the other side of the town as in front of them was the farm. All videos showed that the stallion remained by the farm mostly, so that was the best place to start. Everyone stepped out of the truck, taking in the sights of more pelts and old stains, but they were all hit with a horribly strong musk lingering in the air and Jake got the worst of it with his keen sense of smell.

"Goddamn..! Maybe we shouldn't do this... what's it gonna be like once we are close enough to see the stallion!?" Jake kinda felt panicked now, but got hit over the head by Riko who grinned ear to ear. "Don't be a pussy now or else you're gonna end up a pelt~" That kind of teasing left Jake more scared of anything, but he calmed down eventually.

The group moved away from the truck and towards the farm, where a farmhouse and large barn could be seen, but as they got closer, it seemed that there was movement. It couldn't be the stallion, as the beast was quite large if the videos were anything to go off of, but it quickly dawned on everyone that they were seeing the failures who ended up sissies to serve the stallion.

The highly feminine bois seemed to be doing chores, as some carried buckets and others tended to a small field of crops, which most likely kept the stallion nicely fed. "I wouldn't mind grabbing one of these sluts after we're done." Lilo eyed up a Tiger with a fat round rump, practically begging to be manhandled with how the sissy shook those love handles every step.

"We aren't here for that Lilo, so keep it in your damn pants." George gave his pal a glare, after all he could tell that Lilo wasn't taking this so seriously because he happened to be a horse, but would that even be enough to best the stallion? "Whatever, just don't come whining to me when you start pelting or turning into a sissy!" Lilo smirked, before the group continued onward to find the beast.

Approaching the barn now, the group kept close together when they took a look inside, but the only sight in there was more sissies doing chores or some resting after taking a round or two from their stallion master. The stench of musk and old seed became stronger though, so that had George assuming they were getting closer to finding the stallion. However, despite the group not moving, the stench kept growing stronger and soon they all spun around to see the stallion standing only a hundred feet from them.

Everyone's reaction was basically the same, a moment of terror on their faces and shock thanks to the large stallion somehow sneaking up on them without so much as making a sound. "D-Damn... Bastard is quite sneaky for his size..." Riko said a little fear in his voice, as seeing the beast this close up was quite different from a mere video. The stallion not only made other steeds look like ponies in comparison, but everyone in the group noticed the several feet of horse cock beneath the large beast.

That wasn't all though, as someone seemed to be beneath the stallion and eagerly burying his face into those low hanging cum factories. It seemed to be a skunk by the look of the fur pattern and he was definitely a sissy with his overly feminine physique as he snorted the musky balls fumes and happily lapped up beads of sweat rolling down the massive ballsack.

No one could find the courage to move forward, at least not at first, but Lilo snapped out of it by slapping himself across the face and slowly taking small steps forward. "Hey there big guy... I think we can get along quite nicely, after all we are both horses, so we're practically brothers!" The stallion just stared at Lilo as he kept approaching, seeming to not care in the slightest for whatever left the Horse's mouth.

"You've proven that you're an absolute stud, but why not have someone like me join your side? If we worked together, both of us could easily o-overcome anything...~" Lilo didn't know why he suddenly felt so hot and bothered, until he looked down to see his pants straining to contain his fully erect cock. Immediate fear came over Lilo, who froze in place and looked like a deer in headlights.

"N-Nevermind... I'll just l-leave you alone and-" The stallion took a step forward, leaving Lilo to feel a growing urge to orgasm in his crotch. "D-Don't come any closer... please..?~" Lilo wanted to run as fast as he could, but his knees shook as he stood there in place, as the stallion kept trotting closer and closer. Everyone else in the group backed up to maintain distance from the stallion, leaving Lilo to his fate.

As the stallion got closer, Lilo's cock was throbbing nonstop, oozing precum in copious amounts as he tried to beg for mercy. "Please! I'll do anything, just don't pelt me..! We're the same, aren't we!?!~" The stallion stopped for a moment, leaving Lilo to think he would be spared, but the stallion shook his head and took one more step forward and pushed Lilo over the edge.

Lilo's eyes rolled back as he started shooting cum like a hose, filling his pants within seconds and soon falling to the floor as he started the process of firing out every last trace of mass within him. His moans and whinnies filled the air, as he bucked his hips frantically and kept unloading everything into this single orgasm. The stallion watched silently, but its twitching horse cock drooled a glob of precum.

"H-Help me!~ Somebody!!~" Lilo looked over at the guys he came with, but all of them had stayed back to avoid a similar fate. He could do nothing about this situation, but keep cumming without end, his legs already looking quite thin with the muscles and fat in them already ending up turned into more cum to shoot out.

He tried to crawl away from the stallion, but that did nothing as the beast merely trotted along to stay close, if anything the stallion moved closer and soon stood over the helpless Lilo. His pants were beyond ruined at this point, not to mention he couldn't crawl any further due to his arms becoming mere pelt and bones. "I d-don't want to become a pelt..!~" Lilo moaned out, his still erect cock firing rope after rope of his mass turned seed.

It seems the stallion was growing bored with this pathetic display from someone claiming to be its equal, as it soon pressed a hoof down on Lilo's chest and this made Lilo moan and whinny far louder as cum blasted out of his cock with more intensity. The stallion seemed to be speeding things along, squeezing him like a tube of toothpaste and it didn't take long for Lilo to have cum leaking from his ears as his brain became mere jizz.

"N-No wanna pelt...~" And with his final words, Lilo was just another empty pelt on the ground with a puddle of cum to mark his final moments. The stallion looked at the those who remained in the group and all of them froze in fear, but sported obvious bulges in their pants from the terrifying, yet erotic display of Lilo pelting himself.

No one moved for quite a while, until Jake felt the stallion's eyes on him, making him whimper with his tail tucked between his legs as he felt helpless before such a mighty beast. It didn't help that his sense of smell was being constantly violated by the stallion's overwhelming musk, but it became so much worse as Jake started being able to smell the cum currently churning up inside the stallion's testicles...

The brain melting aroma had left Jake panting with his tongue out, as he kept huffing in that corrupting scent and soon he started walking forward. "What the hell are you doing?! Stop Jake!" George called out to the wolf, but it was useless as Jake was hypnotized by the smell of a real male, a stud beyond understanding. As Jake got closer to the waiting stallion, his painfully hard cock started spraying cum, but not so Jake ended up as a pelt, instead he became the Stallion's latest sissy.

With each step Jake took, his cock kept unloading his masculinity, causing his height to start decreasing and his muscles to soften up and leave him looking twinkish. "I want to s-smell more of you...~" Jake moaned out shamelessly, his cock starting to shrink now as his hips widened and his rear end started filling with fat to become a lovely dump truck. He started taking off his loose clothes, feeling confined by the stupid fabrics and soon he stood before the stallion, naked and as a new sissy.

Jake whimpered and moaned, his new bubble butt drooling a little thanks to his asshole becoming a donut shaped bussy that leaked juices in excitement. "C-Can I serve you?~" His body felt on fire and he couldn't stop himself from reaching back to slip three fingers up his new sissy hole and stir it up as he eagerly awaited an answer from his master. The stallion simply gave a nod and left Jake to serve it however he pleased.

Of course, Jake immediately fell on all fours and crawled underneath the great beast, joining the skunk in servicing the stallion's genitals. Though Jake went about it differently by shoving his face in the stallion's flared tip, just so he could huff all the cum fumes he wanted as he happily licked up the dirty jizz tunnel. His tail wagged furiously with joy as Jake ended up as another sissy wanting nothing more than to serve the stallion.

With the group cut in half, leaving only George and Riko left, the two didn't know if they should even bother trying anymore and just leave while they still could, but Riko felt ashamed of himself for even hesitating, after all he was a dragon! "Fuck it! I'm gonna burn this stallion into a mere pile of ashes!!" And just like that, Riko was charging at the stallion as he prepared to breathe fire to burn the beast.

However, the stallion showed a scary amount of speed for its size as it turned around and gave Riko a view of it's donut shaped anus that winked randomly. Riko didn't care and just pushed onward, fire in his open maw as he got ready to blast the stallion with everything he had, but then the dragon tripped over Lilo's pelt and lost his balance, stumbling forward towards the stallion's rear end with no control.

Suddenly everything went dark for Riko, leaving him confused as to what just happened, until he realized he lodged his head up the stallion's musky asshole and he quickly tried pulling out, but he couldn't make any leeway with how tight the stallion's anus clung to his head. "Let me go or I'm gonna cook you from the inside!!" He shouted at the stallion, but his words couldn't even be heard outside of the anal trap.

Riko suddenly felt the stallion shift a bit, until suddenly lowering itself to the ground rear first, forcing Riko deeper up it's musky asshole and getting the dragon even more stuck at this point. "Ugh! I'm gonna burn you!" He tried to breathe fire, but made the mistake of taking a deep breath of the stallion's backdoor musk and soon felt lightheaded. "D-Dammit... I'm gonna destroy you..!~" Riko was fully lodged up the stallion's ass at this point and with that, the stallion's snug ass began to squeeze down on the dragon, almost as if kneading him like dough.

Not knowing what the stallion was planning, Riko tried to push himself out, but it was no use with his arms pinned to his sides and the constant squeezing making sure he couldn't move so much as a finger. Little did Riko know, but the stallion was using him like a dildo, as even the beast had such needs. Though Riko also didn't know that the hot asshole he was stuck inside of was currently kneading him into a proper dildo!

At first Riko could still feel his arms, but that started to change when a growing numbness spread from his fingertips and up his arms, soon leaving him feeling armless, until even his legs experienced the same numbing sensation from the toes and upwards. "T-The fuck is going on..? Is he crushing me to death?!" Panic filled the dragon and he tried to breathe fire again to get out, but he only let out a weak puff of smoke. "Huh?! What's going on!?"

Trying to squirm and somehow get free, Riko suddenly felt a horrible urge to throw up and despite how hard he tried to hold it in, he soon couldn't hold it anymore and puked, but his could tell from the smell that it was semen he just threw up. "W-What the hell..?" The horrible urge to puke came again and Riko couldn't stop himself from throwing up more cum. He was getting closer to ending up a mere dildo for the stallion and didn't even know it.

Riko couldn't see anything in the dark bowels of the stallion, but he felt like his eyes were covered up, not knowing that his face was gradually becoming more mushroom shaped as all of his features were fading away. He felt oddly sensitive across his torso, which made him think he was close to being crushed to death, until a familiar sensation like achieving orgasm attacked his whole body, while he puked up a large amount of cum this time.

"I'll f-fucking burn you...~" That was all Riko could mutter, before throwing up the largest amount of cum yet for several seconds, until everything went blank in the dragon's head. He didn't even have a mouth now, just a precum oozing urethra as his body had been kneaded into a scaly cock that throbbed with a pair of cum churning testicles that were once the dragon's legs.

George watched as the stallion stood up and pushed out Riko, or at least what used to be Riko, as what landed on the ground was a scaly cock and balls, constantly leaking precum and throbbing to be used by the beast again. "Dammit... Dammit!!!" George was the only one left of the group, everyone having been picked off so effortlessly by the stallion. With it just being him now, he decided to try and achieve his goal, kill the stallion and end this stupid challenge once and for all.

Taking out a pocket knife and stepping towards the stallion, George hesitated a little to rush forward, not sure if he would even make it close to the beast before becoming a sissy or pelt. It didn't matter though, as he couldn't back down now and charged at the stallion who had turned to face knife wielding bear. The stallion merely stood there, staring at George as he charmed in with intent to end the beast's life.

George reached the stallion and stabbed it right in the neck, but the raw muscle the beast had made it so the knife barely even sunk an inch into the stallion's neck. Trying with all of his might, George kept pushing the knife in, but it hardly budged to his frustration. He tried repeating stabs, but he couldn't get the knife more than an inch deep and the shallow stabs didn't even draw a drop of blood.

The stallion looked at the frustrated George, who had thrown his knife to the ground in anger and glared at the stallion. "I'm not pelting and I'm not turning into a sissy... I might not be able to kill you now, but I'll come back with a weapon that can end you. Your days are numbered!" George shouted at the stallion who had no reaction at all, but before he could turn to leave, the stallion leaned forward and kissed George deeply on the lips

Rage filled George and he started wailing on the stallion's head, but that didn't stop the beast from kissing him and with tongue no less. The stallion's hot tongue violated George's mouth and despite him trying to bite down, he couldn't overpower the absurdly sturdy tongue. The stallion practically made out with the angry George, swapping spit and tongue fucking the grizzly bear's throat. And while George hated every second of this, his cock couldn't be more painfully erect as it felt on the verge of busting.

George suddenly felt an orgasm overtake him, making him realize he should've left instead of confronting the stallion, as cum stained his pants as the stallion kept smooching him like a tender lover. The hatred George felt started turning into admiration for the stallion, as his masculinity was ending up as a stain on his pants now, his burly figure shrinking to a more twink-like form.

There was nothing George could do at this point, but return the favor to the stallion by willingly making out with the beast. As George's masculinity was purged from his body, all of his fat seemed to flood his glutes to give him probably the largest ass on the farm, not that he was complaining as his bussy began to squirt juices of joy thanks to George being given the privilege to make out with his master like the two were intimate lovers.

As George's cock shriveled up into a mere peashooter, the stallion broke the kiss with him and left the new sissy moaning for more. "W-Wait!~ Just a little more, please??~" The stallion looked at the sissified George and soon locked lips again with it's new servant, the sissy moaning with glee during the kiss and his lips swelled a little to be a prime smoocher. George's gag reflex ceased existing as the stallion's tongue thrust down his throat again, all while his bussy was again squirting with joy.

The skunk who had been worshiping the stallion's testicles crawled out from under the beast and stood up to get a small breather, after all he still needed rest every once in a while. "I'll be back in an hour master!~" Noticing Lilo's pelt on the ground, the skunk picked it up and used it to wipe his face clean of ball sweat, before tossing it away and walking to the barn to take his nap.

No one in the group made it, either ending up a pelt, a sissy or somehow a living dildo. And no one would even know what happened to them thanks to none of them recording themselves and their erotic fates... It didn't matter though, as the stallion knew that others would come and it needed to only patiently wait. In the meantime, it'll enjoy it's latest sissy servants and the dildo shaped to perfectly full its asshole.

The end.
