

Hello, (Name).

I just wanted to start by saying that your business is fantastic, and I love that you (Personal Thing About Their Business). Your business is very cool and exciting to me, and I would LOVE to see your business grow about 5X larger! What if I told you I could help with that? I am a copywriter taught by a millionaire in copywriting and I can grow your business.

Now, if you don't know what copywriting is, let me help you understand: copywriting is essentially the power of persuasion through the written word. What this means is that I will improve your website, your YouTube channel, your FB and Instagram Ads, your emails and newsletters, and anything else that I can use writing for improvement.

I'm offering my copywriting services to you at affordable prices but I will still deliver the same results as a copywriting veteran. I promise I will do my very best to help you and your business flourish! If you are interested in growing your business, then let me know!

Thanks, Grey.
