THE LEAGUE OF NONPROFITS

Charlene started off our meeting today by thanking ImPowered Minds and St. Peter Claver Catholic Church for co-hosting our meeting today. It has been 3 years, 205 members, and 124 affiliated groups since we first started these meetings. And though our motto is new, it backs our purpose well. Our new motto: We don't compete with each other, we complete each other. We want to remind our members if they haven't hosted a meeting yet, we have some months open next year. Keep a look out for upcoming events!

IMPOWERED MINDS

One of our co-hosts was Jasen, he joined us to talk about his organization that works to mentor disadvantaged children through fishing and one-on-one conversation. This organization is concerned with nurturing the natural gifts of the kids they serve and closing the gap of realized potential by utilizing the therapeutic aspect of nature. They collaborate with schools and mental health facilities to gain access to the children most in need of help. They need volunteers, boats, and funding opportunities.

ST PETER CLAVER CATHOLIC CHURCH

The other co-host was Father Augustino. This gentleman has been ordained for decades. Hailing from southeast Asia, he has been in Tampa for three years. St Peter Claver is the only predominantly African American (first generation immigrants) in this diocese. We are all invited to join them at mass! Also, they feed the homeless through their food pantry weekly in a collaboration with Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

ALL RISE FOUNDATION

All Rise Foundation joined us today to talk about their upcoming six-hour Dance Marathon where they will donate all proceeds to their Christmas in The Park event on Dec 21, which focuses on supporting the homeless and those in need. Ask Zandra, Tinisha, or Cece for details on how to help.

CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY

Luis said recently the Church hosted The Colombian Consulate at their Ybor location! They are continuing their work with the Citizens Commission on Human Rights, informing folks about the Baker Act, and hosting seminars. They have many upcoming events, reach out or visit their website for details.

ST2REAM

Maureen had good news on this education focused organization that is going to soon be incorporated as a 501c3! We are excited to see all the ways that this opens them up to do greater things, and they would like us all to attend their grand opening celebration early next year.

INSPIRE WORLD FOUNDATION

The Inspire World Foundation focuses on economic literacy for the disadvantaged population. Their uplifting programs also include an emotional GPS program. Connie would like folks to view their YouTube channel so that they can help other non-profits get their financials in shape. The name of the channel is The Rhythm of Trade.

ONE BLOOD

A new addition to the One Blood team, Ashley, joined us to talk about coordinating where they park their big red bus. They are looking for connections with our members so that they can more easily set up those partnerships.

TECH MENTORS

Nyjel joined us today to talk about his organization which offers digital literacy to clients of all ages. Nyjel wants us to know that they also offer tech support to other nonprofits and individuals. Please reach out to Tech Mentors to access these services.

WESTSHORE FINANCIAL

Jose explained his organization to us today, which focuses on helping empower people financially. They do this by helping nonprofits keep their organizations financially stable. Their work to stop the cycle of poor financial choices includes insurance offerings that provide automatic donations to a 501c3 of your choice.

METROPOLITAN MINISTRIES

Metro is known for their stellar work with homelessness alleviation in Tampa. Catheline joined us today to discuss their Pathways to Hope and First Hug programs which include rental assistance, utility assistance, and shelter. They would like to be invited to all of the events that our members are hosting!

THRIVAL ACADEMY

India joined us today to talk about how her eclectic life's journey has ended up with her working with Thrival Academy. Their organization is starting to work on human rights, and they would like us to follow them on social media.
