Analysis Benchmarks

1. Quantity of Designs

Even though the quality of a design may matter more than the sheer number of designs, when it comes to floral patterns if they don't have the type of flower you are looking for it doesn't matter how pretty the design they have is. So we took a look at the overall count of how many floral designs they actually have to make sure there would be enough variety to find a design you would love.

2. Material Options

There are dozens of different types of peel and stick wallpaper materials and each of them has a different finish and look and feel. We will look at how many different wallpaper options each company offered

3. Price

Let's be honest, price really matters. We took a look at the cost of each wallpaper by square foot and have rated them accordingly.

4. Color Options

Making sure your wallpaper matches the color scheme of the room is vital so it adds to the overall look and does not distract.

5. Overall Reviews

Just as important as price we did the research of which company stands behind their product and what their customers have to say. We use Google's reviews as the unbiased version of this and not reviews from the retailers site as they can be manipulated.
