

ProSocial World is a non-profit dedicated to enabling individual and collective action and widespread cooperation through our unique framework built on science and compassion.

About Us

---

While many organizations have a prosocial mission and vision, what makes us unique is our focus on bringing together modern evolutionary and behavioral science with Elinor Ostrom's Nobel prize-winning design principles to inform our process. Our work empowers individuals, groups, and communities in all contexts and sizes to make positive cultural change possible.

Our Belief

We believe that to catalyze rapid, positive cultural change we need to recognize our interconnectedness and continuously improve the relationships we have with ourselves, each other, and the planet.

Our Purpose

We exist to consciously evolve a world that works for all.

ProSocial has a vast and humbling mission. We've made significant progress in laying the necessary groundwork and building a solid foundation that enables us to help catalyze positive change across the globe.

What We Do

---

Using our unique integrated methodology for continuous social improvement, our work focuses on three key areas:

- Community: We've created a global community of practice where we work together to accelerate a major, multi-level evolutionary transition and better adapt to our rapidly changing world.

- Learning & Courses: We provide a number of learning opportunities that enable and support individuals and groups to collaborate, co-create, and tackle issues together.
- Research: Our research explores the integration of modern evolutionary science, behavioral science, and community - providing an inclusive framework that can help groups to become cooperative and adaptive.

How We Can Support Bioregional Financing Facilities

---

- Training and Education: Workshops, courses, and custom training programs to foster more impactful collaboration and organize sustainable cooperation at the scale of bioregions.
- Consulting Services: Tailored consulting services to address specific needs, including strategic planning, governance, and impact assessment and evaluation.
- Research and Analysis: Conducting participatory research, evaluation, and analysis, empowering bioregions to make data-driven decisions that amplify the impact of their work.

Get Involved

---

We warmly invite you to join us on our journey of creating a world that works for all:

- Sign up to our newsletter
- Support our work by making a donation
- Collaborate and partner with us
- Join our community

Connect with Us

---

- <https://prosocial.world>
- <https://www.linkedin.com/company/prosocial-world>
- ashle.gilreath@prosocial.world