

SL: The decision that made me $234,000

Hey (name),

Three years ago, I was mentally struggling trying to find out the BEST way to invest.

Headaches, blank minds and stress was all my life consisted of.

At the time, I was earning about $50K per year. But I had over $10K to spare.

And I knew that making my money work for me was key to financial freedom.

This was my chance to escape this so-called “rat race”.

So the one investment path that shined bright in front of my eyes was,

“The Stock Market”.

But there was a huge problem I faced.

And I’m sure you’re facing the same problem as well.

Overconsumption of Information.

It feels as if everything is thrown at you:

- IPOs
- Stock Options
- Shorting
- Mutual Funds
- Index Funds

The list can go on forever.

But it wasn’t until I honed in on one investment strategy instead of trying to play them all.

And because of this wise choice, I was able to take my $10K from 3 years ago and turn it into $234K.

It’s also not as hard as you think.
