VidGrid Tutorials

- How to record a video - https://app.vidgrid.com/view/q0ESpGV4P63n
- You can also record directly in Moodle - https://app.vidgrid.com/view/dYna945z8RDw

  Both recording options will open up the VidGrid website and recorder. There are no advantages to doing it one way or another really. If you know you want to create multiple videos at one time it's probably easier to do so within VidGrid, name and organize the videos in your account then upload them into Moodle. If you are creating one at the time then doing it through Moodle may be a better option saving you step of adding it to the LMS.

- Adding Video Captions - https://app.vidgrid.com/view/oqiqwB3o4mMK

  (You should use Machine Caption which will generate a caption within a few minutes; you will receive an email when the file is complete. Then you can edit the caption file if needed. The easiest way to do this is to open your video in one window and view and pause the video while the captions are in another window. Once you save the caption changes and exit the edit window your changes are applied to the video.)

- Embed questions within your video - https://app.vidgrid.com/view/p1t22HBwF0EZ

  (You can create a video with questions and choose to add them into Moodle as an external tool that is graded if you want a grade tied to their answers.)

- Combine Multiple Videos - https://app.vidgrid.com/view/jfhHlBQ5ZlMi

  This option is great if you have a general information you want to include in all of your classes, you could create one video and combine it with other specific videos. For example, if you want to create a welcome video that covers the basics of navigating your course, you might want to create one video with basic information that is true for all your course sites and add that to a welcome video for each course.
