Film Studies Group 1

A group for film lovers who enjoy watching and discussing films. Our emphasis is on not just watching but also studying and evaluating the films we watch. We meet on the third Thursday of each month at 7pm in members' homes.

Group currently full. Please contact the group leader if you would like to join a waiting list.
Leader Rosie Simpson, by clicking the above link

The group has been running for 8 years now and we have enjoyed viewing and debating a wide variety of films covering many genres.
Our choices have covered many contrasting themes, locations, languages and styles of direction.

Some useful sources of information for film lovers:

If you want to discover background information on the above titles or about other films - the cast, the director, film locations, plot and whether they are worth watching - the websites below are invaluable resources:

Images taken for this page are taken from The Internet Movie Database (IMDB) <https://www.imdb.com/> which is recommended as a leading source of information and viewers' reviews of well over 100,000 films. It is an invaluable source of information for film lovers.

Also recommended is Rotten Tomatoes <https://www.rottentomatoes.com> which is a website that aggregates and summarises the reviews of professional film critics, writing for the review sections of newspapers and magazines.

Taste of Cinema is another useful website which contains unusual lists of films by genre - such as The 20 Most Complex Movies of all time etc. It's well worth browsing if you're looking for ideas and have some time to spare.
